End Sought For Sewage Dumping

. . . 'Hazardous' Situation Might Cost Million Dollars To Correct

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

T. A. Filipi, head of the sanitation division of the state health department, will ask officials at a meeting Thursday to adopt a program with a definite future date set at which time the dumping of raw, untreated sewage into Salt Creek will be stopped.

Filipi will ask an end to the hazardous health problem at a meeting in the City Hall with other state officials and representatives of the city, county, Sanitary District 1 and the city-county health department.

The untreated sewage, including human waste, is dumped into the creek daily under the Van Dorn bridge just west of Park Blvd. Havelock sewage is also spilled untreated into the creek north of the city.

At peak periods of demand on the sewer lines, other points along the creek are discharge centers through overflow lines. Raw sewage has even been known to back up through ground level manholes south of Calvert and spill out over the land.

The problem centers around the capacity of the existing sewer system. Present lines, many of them dating back to the 1920's and earlier, are not of sufficient size to handle today's sewage demands.

The Van Dorn bridge sewage comes out of a line running directly from the State Hospital. This line cannot be hooked into the interceptor sewer that goes to the disposal or treatment plant without causing that interceptor to overflow through its manholes and spread the waste upon the ground.

District 1 and city officials have estimated in the past that to correct the situation would require a sewer improvement program of around $1 million. Officials have never been able to reach agreement yet on whose responsibility the improvements should be.

The District owns and operates the disposal plant at 27th and Theresa and builds sanitary sewers outside the city limits. The city constructs sewer within its limits.

To help get around the financial problem, Filipi will propose Thursday that the District establish a sewer service charge. This would be a charge made to householders just like any other utility service such as water, lights, gas, etc.

Mayor Clark Jeary has asked the city-county health department to make a study of the degree of pollution of Salt Creek from the sewage emptied into it.

According to Dr. James T. Googe, health department director, clinical observations made in connection with the requested study show the creek to be a "heavily polluted stream." These observations, he said, must now be substantiated through laboratory analysis.

The condition was classed by Filipi as "urgent" and placed him in the No. 2 spot on the city's priority list. The No. 1 spot he gave to "any emergency."

The sewer situation here, he said, is just one step below an emergency.

It is difficult to say, Filipi said, just how dangerous the situation is. Polluted streams are just a part of the overall health picture such as control of flies and rodents and milk standards.

"Who ever gave anyone the privilege," asked Filipi, "of taking toilet waste, mixing it with a little water and dumping it into a stream? I believe our children are too valuable to let them have the possibility of becoming contaminated with penitentiary, state hospital or any other waste."

Filipi pointed out that many children play in the creek and that the Boy Scout camp is only a short distance from the spot where the Hospital line empties into the creek.

"I think it is time we determined who is responsible," Filipi said, "and lay the problem in their lap."

Filth Problem Confronts Officials

Cub Scout Doug Barrett holds his nose in view of the stream of untreated sewage from the State Hospital which runs daily into Salt Creek near the northeast end of the Boy Scout camp south of Lincoln. According to Dr. James T. Googe, director of the city-county health department, some of the "filth-borne diseases" that can be carried in such raw sewage are typhoid fever, diarrhea and dysentry. ## Joe Fails To Avert Senate Showdown

. . . HE TANGLES WITH MEMBERS OF BOTH PARTIES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate administered a 77-4 drubbing Wednesday to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his resolution to force a discussion of the Soviet satellites at the forthcoming Big Four conference.

In the maneuvering and heated bickering that preceded the vote, McCarthy tried and failed to call off a direct showdown. The Democratic leadership blocked that maneuver and the result was the overwhelming vote rebuffing McCarthy.

The Senate roared down a motion by Sen. Jenner (R-Wis), friend of McCarthy, to send the resolution back to the Foreign Relations Committee. It balked at taking what McCarthy called a "softened down" substitute. It refused to let McCarthy withdraw the original.

Red Charges Tossed

And the Wisconsin senator wound up by tossing charges of aiding the Communists at those who insisted on the showdown vote which McCarthy himself had been demanding as late as last Monday.

The administration, Senate leaders of both parties and the Foreign Relations Committee teamed up almost solidly against the resolution, which would have expressed the sense of the Senate that Russia be required in advance to agree to take up the status of her European and Asian satellites at the top-level Big Four meeting in Geneva July 18. Thus the resolution, in effect, would have put the Senate on record as opposing any Big Four conference unless Moscow gave such consent.

Many Protests

Senator after senator protested that this would "tie the hands" of the President and show lack of confidence in him.

In the end, only McCarthy, Jenner, and Sens. Langer (R-ND) and Malone (R-Nev) voted for the resolution.

Forty-two Democrats and 35 Republicans voted "no." It was announced that four other Democrats and three Republicans who didn't vote were against the measure.

An objection by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark), an old McCarthy foe, blocked the attempt to withdraw the resolution and get it off the floor. McCarthy promptly accused Fulbright of doing a "stellar service to the Communist party."

Fulbright merely smiled back. Not so Sen. Morse (D-Ore).

Morse called Fulbright a "great senator," "one of the great Americans of our day," and protested that McCarthy "tried to brush all over the senator from Arkansas the smear of Communist appeasement."

Mixes With Knowland

McCarthy collided, too, with Senate Republican leader Knowland of California.

Knowland told McCarthy he objected to the original resolution and would object to any amendment or substitute.

McCarthy retored that he was not surprised that the Democratic party was bucking his proposal, "but I am surprised, shocked and disappointed at the position the minority leader takes." The record of the Democratic party, McCarthy said, is one of "whinning and whimpering" over communism.

Leaping back to his feet, Knowland replied:

"I will not allow the senator to say I have been whining and whimpering."

Says Only Democrats

Three times, McCarthy insisted he was talking only of Democrats. But he said Knowland's position was in "complete contradiction of the solemn pledges made in the Republican party platform" of 1952 to work for freeing the "captive peoples" behind the Iron Curtain.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) hopped into the skirmishing to protest that McCarthy was making "a blanket indictment of the President, secretary of state and Republicans as communist appeasers."

"You want to indict us and try to beat our brains out," Capehart declared. "I'm a pretty good fighter myself."

VOTE AGAINST JOE

Nebraska's Republican Sens. Curtis and Hruska voted with the majority to reject the McCarthy resolution.

Nehru, Kremlin Ask Formosa Surrender

Declaration Calls For Complete A-Ban, U.N. Seat For Chou

MOSCOW (Thursday) (AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India and Soviet Premier Nicolai Bulganin today published a joint declaration calling for peaceful surrender of Formosa to the Chinese Communists.

The declaration, signed by the two men in the Kremlin last night, also urged seating of Communist China in the United Nations.

It also called for "imposition of a complete ban on production, experimentation and use of nuclear and thermonuclear weapons of war."

"In this connection," the declaration said, "recent Soviet proposals on disarmament were acknowledged as a substantial contribution to peace."

In their so-called communique, Nehru and Bulganin reaffirmed the five principles for international behavior which Nehru originally drew up with Red China's Premier Chou En-lai at their conference last year. They are:

1. Mutual respect for others' territorial integrity and sovereignty.
2. Nonaggression.
3. Noninterference in others' internal affairs for any reason—of an economic, political or ideological character.
4. Equality and mutual benefits.
5. Peaceful coexistence.

The declaration said "The Prime Ministers recognized there have been signs of improvement in the general international situation."

Dangers of War

"In particular they welcome the lessening of tension in the Far East, the advent of Austrian independence, improved relations between the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia, and keener and more general appreciation now discernible everywhere of the dangers of war in the atomic age.

"Nevertheless, in a large area fear and suspicion dominate the minds of men and nations and vitiate international relations.

"In the Far East, while there has been a lessening of tension, the causes of friction still remain.

"It is the earnest hope of both Prime Ministers that it will be possible by peaceful means to satisfy the legitimate rights of the Chinese People's Republic in regard to Taiwan (Formosa).

"At the same time, the Prime Ministers wish to reiterate their conviction that the continued refusal to admit the Chinese People's Republic to the United Nations lies at the root of many troubles in the Far East and elsewhere.

NO COMMENT

In Washington, the State Department said there would be no comment Wednesday night on the declaration.

COL. CLAUDE E. PUTNAM

Col. Putnam Nominated For General

Col. Claude E. Putnam, commander of the 818th Air Division at Lincoln Air Force Base, was nominated by President Eisenhower Wednesday to receive a temporary rank of brigadier general.

The Senate must ratify the promotion, along with others on a nomination list signed by the President.

The 39-year-old Putnam, a command pilot, was appointed commander of the 818th in October of last year after serving as deputy director of plans at Strategic Air Command Headquarters at Offutt Field, Omaha.

A veteran of the Korean War and World War II, Putnam led the 92nd Bomb Group in its first strike against North Korean targets only eight days after the outfit was alerted in the United States for combat duty in the Far East. In World War II, the general-nominate held several commands in England until July, 1944 when he returned to the states.

He is a native of Jacksboro, Tex., and a graduate of the University of Texas. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Corps in 1938.

Among his decorations, Col. Putnam holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, the British Distinguished Flying Cross and the Legion of Merit.

Molotov Talk Sours Peace

'He Starts Cold War Over Again'

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Diplomatic leaders of the Western powers took a dim view of V. M. Molotov's bristling speech at the United Nations anniversary conclave Wednesday and said it served notice that Russia would confront the Geneva "summit" talks at the outset with a stiff price for peace.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, due to lunch with Molotov Thursday before drafting his own Friday speech, showed by his facial expression in the San Francisco Opera House that he was not impressed as he listened to the Soviet Foreign Minister's address.

Dulles, figuratively, sat on his hands in silence as other top diplomats—including Britain's Foreign clapped hands after Molotov had finished speaking

A high-placed American source said the Molotov "oration" was a "statement of position" draped around the May 10 Soviet disarmament proposals placed before the Western powers in London.

Dulles will have his opportunity to fire back at the Russian Friday morning when he will take the rostrum as spokesman for President Eisenhower.

Free China's Tingfu F. Tsiang summed up the Molotov address as follows:

"He has started the cold war all over again."

Foreign Secretary MacMillan, leaving San Francisco Wednesday night, shrugged politely and said the Molotov speech was "rather long."

France's Foreign Minister Antoin Pinay observed:

"It is an old story. I have heard it ten times before."

Other French sources were of the opinion Molotov wants to "hold position" and compel the Western members of the "summit" talk in Geneva next month to lay their cards on the table before the Kremlin makes a new move.

Prevailing diplomatic opinon was that neither the militant Molotov attack on the U.S. nor his breaking up of the "harmony" atmosphere will affect the arrangements being made by the U.N. for the meeting of the four heads of state in Geneva starting July 18.

Soviet Offers Stiff Terms For 'Summit'

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — A preview of Russia's stiff peace terms at next month's Big Four summit-height Geneva conference was unveiled by V. M. Molotov Wednesday at a stormy session of the United Nations 10th birthday assembly — and ran into an immediate challenge.

After the Soviet Foreign Minister had completed his speech, professing a desire to end the cold war but bristling with strong demands and anti-American charges, a Cuban diplomat promptly unleashed a counterattack in behalf of the free world.

Cuba's U.N. Ambassador Emilio Nunez Portuondo, who took the rostrum of the San Francisco Opera House shortly after Molotov left it, triggered the first open clash at the weeklong anniversary conclave with a bitter attack on Soviet acts and aims.

U.N. Assembly chairman Eelco Van Kleffens loudly rapped the gavel ruling Portuondo out of order when the Cuban mentioned Molotov by name and bluntly contradicted the Soviet Foreign Minister's portrayal of Russia's good intentions.

The Philippines' Carolos P. Romulo jumped up and vigorously protested, pointing out that the chairman had not stopped Molotov when the latter attacked the United States. But Portuondo bowed to the chairman's edict, modulated the remainder of his speech and then left the stage to the accompaniment of an explosive standing ovation by thousands in the audience.

In his address, Molotov reiterated Russia's oft-avowed goals and conspicuously omitted any new peace gestures. He demanded:

1. The handing over of Formosa, now held by the Chinese Nationalists, to Communist China.
2. Early prohibition of the use and manufacture of atomic and hydrogen weapons.
3. Abandonment by the United States and other major powers of all overseas military bases.
4. Withdrawal of American, Russian, British and French troops from both West and Communist East Germany.
5. Communist China's admission to the United Nations, with Nationalist China thrown out.
6. A termination of "war propaganda" everywhere.
7. An end of "discrimination" in international trade and economic cooperation.

Workman Injured In Grain Elevator Accident

Fellow workmen are shown strapping Mart Weiss, 60, Tower View Trailer Courts, to a stretcher after the carpenter was struck down by a falling die machine at the C. & G. Grain Elevator at 33rd and Leighton. Two other workmen, electricians, were caught in the gyrating machine and suffered minor injuries. The portable threading machine dropped 20 feet onto Weiss who is in serious condition at Lincoln General Hospital. (Star Staff Photo.)

Machine Falls, Injures 2 Workers

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A pipe threading die machine ripped the clothes off one man, injured a second, and critically hurt a third Wednesday afternoon when it went out of control at the C. & G. Grain Co. at 33rd and Leighton.

The gyrating hunk of machinery, weighing about 200 pounds, accidentally bounced into action while a workman, Lorin Schramm, 49, of 1726 So. 40th, was placing a five-foot piece of pipe into the threading device.

The machine ripped the overalls off Schramm and bounced over to a planked hole in the flooring, ripped the planks away, and dropped 20-feet on top of a workman in the basement.

Most seriously injured was Mart Weiss, 60, of the Tower View Trailer Courts, a carpenter and mill rye worker. Weiss attempted to scramble away as the machine hurtled toward him, but was caught on the left shoulder. He was reported in serious condition at Lincoln General Hospital with a possible broken left shoulder and separations of the ribs.

The portable die threader, being worked near the mouth of the floor-level hole, started into operation accidentally, according to Schramm. He suffered skin burns about both calves of his legs and a cut on his left wrist.

While Schramm, an electrician, was grappling with the runaway machine, a fellow workman, W. H. Lahman, 48, of 321 No. 16, came to his aid and stopped the machine. Before he halted its gyrations, though, he suffered a deep gash on his left wrist that cut through a large vein. He suffered heavy loss of blood.

Lahman was pronounced in good condition at Lincoln General Hospital.

The accident occurred at 3:30 p.m.

The accident was the first serious one at the building site of the new grain storage building being built by the Chalmers-Borton Construction Co. of Hutchinson, Kan. The owners of the building, C. & G. Grain Co., maintain local offices at 903 O St.

Caught Trousers

According to Schramm, he was just placing the piping into the machine when it started up. He said another worker had just turned the machine off, after using it, when he straddled it. The turning breaks of the dies caught onto his trouser legs, ripping them from his body.

When Schram worked lose from the threader, it bounced over to the planked floor where it ripped up three planks and dropped to the basement, just before it was turned off. Weiss was working below placing boarding for conveyor belt footings.

Oscar Whitacre, construction superintendent, said the die threader was left portable so it could be used in several buildings.

Lahman said he got caught in the machine when he tried to get it away from Schramm. He said the threader "started flopping me around," before he could turn it off.

Weiss was hauled to the floor level by back splint with ropes hooked to the four corners. Fellow workmen pulled him up.

The accident took place in the north house of the elevator, apart from the bins themselves.

Teal Dies Of Injuries; Was Hit By Train

An itinerant worker from Missouri, struck by an Omaha-bound CB&Q diesel passenger train over a week ago, died at Lincoln General Hospital Wednesday night.

Cecil B. Teal, 42, of Springfield and Sparta, Mo., was hit by the train as he was walking along tracks near 17th and Holdrege June 14. Bystanders had tried to warn him of the upcoming train by shouting at him, but apparently Mr. Teal did not hear their calls.

The bystanders also tried to flag the train, whose engineer was C. L. Ashby of Creston, Ia., but the diesel couldn't be stopped in time to avoid hitting the worker.

Mr. Teal had worked in the rail yards the day before the accident but he had not reported for work on June 14.

A sister, Mollie Teal, survives. Funeral and burial will be in Ava, Mo.

Brucker Named New Army Secretary

Stevens Praised By Ike

. . . AS HE STEPS DOWN

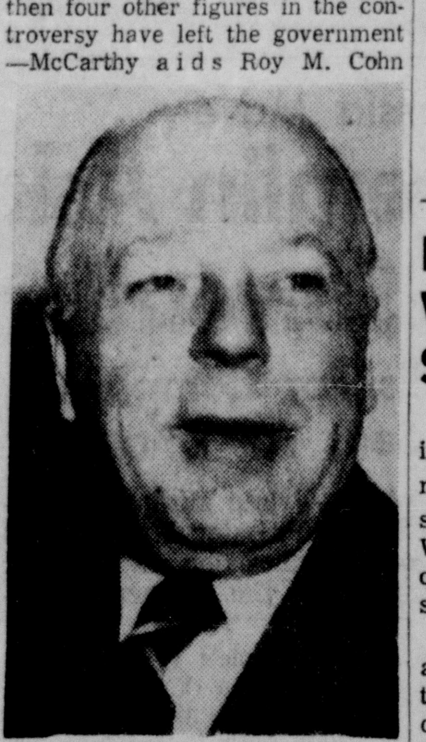
WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert T. Stevens quit as secretary of the Army Wednesday, a year after his celebrated row with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). President Eisenhower named Pentagon General Counsel Wilber M. Brucker, a onetime Republican governor of Michigan, to succeed him.

Stevens, who had said repeatedly he would stay in office as long as the President wanted him, gave unspecified "compelling personal considerations" as his reasons for resigning, effective toward the end of next month.

Eisenhower, in a letter accepting the resignation "with deep regret," praised him for "devotion" and told him he had "contributed extensively to the vital task of reshaping our military forces to conform to the conditions of our time."

Neither man made any reference to the McCarthy-Army row which roared to a climax just about this time last year. Since then four other figures in the controversy have left the government —McCarthy aids Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr; Army counsel John G. Adams and Asst. Secretary of Defense H. Struve Hensel.



WILBER M. BRUCKER
. . . President promotes him.

In addition McCarthy was rebuked by the Senate — though not on charges growing directly out of his feud with Stevens and other Pentagon officials. McCarthy declined comment on Stevens' resignation.

Brucker, who will be 61 Thursday, has been the Defense Department's general counsel—and head of its security system—since April, 1954. He had something of a clash with McCarthy during a Senate investigation of the "Who Promoted Peress?" case earlier this year.

The White House announced the Stevens-Brucker shift just before Eisenhower took off for a swing through New England. Only Tuesday presidential press Secretary James C. Hagerty denied any knowledge that the long-rumored Stevens resignation was imminent.

Stevens, Brucker and Secretary of Defense Wilson rode with the President from the White House to the airport. Later, at the Pentagon, they held a news conference. Wilson praised Stevens for "devoted and faithful service" and told him:

"Bob, thank you again and I'm sorry you're leaving."

Brucker, whose nomination must be passed on by the Senate, described his designation as a great honor. He said to Stevens: "The country has a profound respect for you—your honor, integrity and the fact that you are every bit a man."

Royal Wedding Within 18 Months Seen By Insider

NEW YORK (INS)—An insider in the international set says the most talked-about royal romance since the Duke of Windsor married Wallis Simpson will end with Princess Margaret wedded to handsome Peter Townsend.

Margaret Thompson Biddle, who as wife of foreign diplomat Anthony Biddle lived in the capitals of Europe most of her mature life, says it's "mainly a question of how the marriage will be arranged."

Her time estimate? "Within a year and a half."

In a special magazine report Mrs. Biddle claims:

"All but one member of the royal family is now in favor of the match." She also says "there is no question of . . . 'exile', because the British people wouldn't want that."

She claims the royal opposition is furnished by the Duchess of Kent, while both Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip have been won over to the fairy-story ending.

Senate Unit Asked To 'Trade' McCook And Kansas Dams

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Reclamation Subcommittee Wednesday was asked to approve legislation trading Red Willow Dam in Nebraska and Wilson Dam in Kansas between the Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau.

Red Willow Dam, near McCook, is an Army Engineer project. Wilson Dam in central Kansas, another feature of the Missouri River Basin Development, is a Reclamation Bureau project.

Testifying in support of a bill by Sens. Curtis and Hruska, N. B. Bennett of the Bureau said Red Willow Dam should be operated in connection with Reclamation dams in the Frenchman-Cambridge division to provide additional irrigation water.

He said the Wilson Dam originally was planned to irrigate 15,000 acres near Salina, Kan., but flood control become paramount when later studies reduced the irrigation possibility to 2,200 acres.

Carter Page, representing the Army Engineers, said the Defense Department concurred in the swap.

He had been sought on a federal warrant charging unlawful flight from Ohio to avoid prosecution on an armed robbery charge, Wilson said.

The detective chief said Dye was fingerprinted but since there was nothing in local files under his assumed name, he was released while the prints were en route to Washington, D. C.

Scheulke said he believed he was the first to start combining in Cass County.

Armed Forces Reported Free Of Communists

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and retiring Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens joined Wednesday in assurances that the nation's combat ability is unimpaired and that they believe the armed forces are free of Communism.

At one point during a Pentagon news conference Wilson said the U. S. "could do a pretty good job of fighting World War II" with the three million-man armed forces now being maintained. Asked, "What about World War III?" Wilson said: "That's what we're trying to avoid."

The news conference was held after the White House announced that Stevens had resigned.

Anderson Next?

Wilson refused to confirm or deny reports that the resignation of Deputy Defense Secretary Robert B. Anderson may be submitted soon.

Stevens conceded that the Army, reduced from a Korean War peak of 1,600,000 men to a force of little more than one million, has lost some of its combat strength.

Corrective Steps Taken

Asked whether his dispute with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) had resulted in eliminating Communism from the Army, Stevens said:

"We learned as we went along, and took a number of corrective measures, many of them in cooperation with Mr. Brucker who suceeds me, to avoid mistakes in the future."

Stevens said he belives the Army is free of Communists, and Wilson interjected: "The Army never did have many active Communists. There are none now that we know of."

Queen Has An Anxious Wait For Her Flying Duke

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Britain's flying Duke of Edinburgh gave his royal wife a fright Wednesday as his helicopter vanished for 20 minutes over the Scottish hills.

The hoverplane, taking the Duke to a rendezvous with young Queen Elizabeth II aboard the royal train, was forced out of the skies by heavy mist and rain. It landed safely on a muddy football field at the little mining town of Bathgate.

Thirty miles away, on the outskirts of Glasgow, the queen waited anxiously in the royal train for her husband to appear. Twice she came to a doorway and peered worriedly into the murky skies, shielding her eyes with a hand.

Then she looked across the platform to where the station master's wife was standing, and smiled, as if to say: "You know what these husbands are."

Anxious officials scurried around the train as the minutes ticked by and the duke still did not show up. Then a police call reported:

"He is safe. The duke is continuing his journey by car."

The queen had nearly finished moved on to Glasgow to meet the Duke there.

The queen ordered the train her tour of a Glasgow carpet factory when the duke arrived, beaming.

"What in the world happened to you?" she asked.

"Unavoidably detained, my dear," he replied apologetically.

Together they finished the tour and went on to the Glasgow docks, where the Queen launched the new 22,500-ton liner Empress of Britain.

Omaha Housewife Stabbed; Another Woman Is Jailed

OMAHA (AP) — A housewife was stabbed 10 times by another housewife after an altercation between their children.

Both are residents of Hillside housing project.

Mrs. Theola McAtee, 30, was taken to County Hospital with stab wounds. Her condition was described as satisfactory.

Police jailed Mrs. Lena Mae Foye, 29. They said she admitted attacking Mrs. McAtee.

The wounded woman told detectives there have been numerous arguments between the two families and that she found Robert Foye, 12, hitting her son, Raymond, 5.

She said Mrs. Foye afterward came to her house and the stabbing followed.

Morrison Tells District Views On '55 Session

SCOTTSBLUFF (AP) — Failure of the Unicameral to act favorably on a combined sales and income tax was the greatest setback for western Nebraska in the last session, State Sen. Amos Horrison said Wednesday.

He said progress had been made by the Legislature in other fields, but failure to provide a broader tax base has left the burden of an increasing budget on real estate.

He said strongest opposition came from the Senators whose districts bordered the state lines of Kansas and Iowa where state sales taxes are collected.

"The people there are opposed to a sales tax," he said, "because they're afraid that business which comes from other states will be lost."

Morrison said he sees no reduction in taxes on real estate even with the most stringent economy. He said people, used to a high standard of living, demand services which continue to increase the size of the budget.

The recodification of the highway laws is a big step forward in bringing state roads up to standard, the Senator added.

Morrison said he voted to abolish the Turnpike Authority because "it would impede the state's own highway program."

A toll road, Morrison said, is not economically feasible in this state for many years and favorable action now would upset road planning of the State Highway Department.

One of the issues the Legislature did little about is the public power problem, Morrison said, adding that it is the only problem, other than highways, which could result in a special session of the Legislature.

"Public power is in a precarious condition," he said, "unless the districts solve their problems."

On the school lands problem, the Senator said, "I firmly believe they should be sold, but in my opinion it will never be done. There is too much land for the board to manage properly."

$750,000 Loan For Creighton Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration announced approval of a $750,000 loan to Creighton University, Omaha, Neb., for construction of a dormitory to house 194 new students and a lounge and dining hall to accommodate 400.

Truman To Address U.N. Meeting In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—The U. S. committee for nationwide observance of the 10th U. N. birthday disclosed that former President Harry S. Truman will address its organization luncheon on Friday.

Mr. Truman is scheduled to speak also that same night to the U.N. Assembly commemorating the signing of the charter in San Francisco 10 years ago.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has tentatively agreed to attend. Other speakers will be U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Man Hurt When Car Hits Bridge

A 51-year-old Lincoln man, Don Waterman of 834 Rose, was in fair to good condition at St. Elizabeth's Hospital early Thursday morning after he was injured when his car hit the Salt Creek bridge on North 14th Street.

Waterman was thrown from the car by the jolt and was in semiconscious condition when taken to the hospital.

Safety Patrolmen, who investigated the early morning accident, said Waterman's car was traveling north on 14th when it apparently hit the right guard rail of the bridge, bounced across the pavement, and smashed into the left side guard.

The heavy concrete rail saved the car from a 30-foot drop into the creek.

Waterman's head was thrown into the front windshield and dashboard of the car. He was alone in the car at the time of the accident.

Sweet Wine Loses Out

PARIS, France (AP)—Champagne manufacturers say people don't seem to like sweet champagne any more. The more sugar syrup you add to champagne the easier it is to cover the natural acidity of the wine. Really dry champagne has to be better than the sweeter stuff. Why the change in taste has come is not clear. Experts say it is true of all wines.

Cool Weather Delays Action Of Corn Borer

Recent cool weather has delayed the activity of the European corn borer a few days, University of Nebraska extension entomologist Robert Roselle reported.

Roselle's weekly insect report said that with early eggs hatched in nearly all parts of the state, leaf feeding indicates that not more than 25 per cent of the plants in early planted fields are infested.

He added the present situation does not justify control measures.

The report also said recent cool weather may have retarded grasshopper infestation slightly. Migratory hoppers now are maturing.

"At the present time, there is no indication of migrations in Nebraska," said Roselle. "A few spots in the plains states have populations that may migrate."

However, the report added that damage from the hoppers is increasing in pastures and field margins. Roselle urged farmers to watch the situation so that applications of aldrin or heptachlor can be applied in alfalfa fields 10 to 15 days before cutting if necessary.

Family Recovers From Effects Of Faulty Gas Fumes

COTESFIELD, Neb. (AP) — A Cotesfield farm family had recovered Wednesday from the effects of gas fumes suffered from a faulty refrigerator.

Mrs. Leland Rich said she awakened and smelled dead air in the house. She found her husband overcome and called Leonard Wells, on whose farm the family lives.

When Wells arrived he found Mrs. Rich on the floor.

Wells said he opened the windows in the house, dragged the Rich couple and their three children out of doors. The Richs became quite ill, but the children apparently had escaped the fumes.

'Mistake' Made; 4 Yanks Released By Italian Cops

ROME (AP) — Italian police held four New Yorkers in custody for seven hours Wednesday and then released them with an apology that "it was all a mistake."

One of the four—Peter J. Riordan of 984 3rd Ave., New York City — said the officers asked Joseph Michael Vitacco of 201 S. 4th St., Brooklyn, "some questions" about the $305,243 robbery of a Chase Manhattan branch bank in New York last April.

They did not mention the robbery to the others, he said.

The other two men gave their names as John Timothy O'Connell of 5644 187th St., Flushing, N. Y., and Daniel William MacGuire of New York City. MacGuire declined to give a street address

Will Continue Tour

The four plan to return to New York by plane from Paris July 3. Meanwhile, they will continue touring Europe.

Vitacco, a husky 28-year-old who said he is unemployed, reported police ransacked his hotel room, also.

"They brought me back to the hotel room and they started searching the room," he reported. "They searched all the luggage, and trunks, and took the beds and mattresses apart. Just before they finished one of the officers said to me: 'Where is the machine gun?' I told him I never saw a machine gun in my life. I didn't know what he was talking about."

The four have been living at the Residence Palace Hotel in the fashionable Parioli residential district.

Before the questioning, the police had issued a nationwide alert for the men on the request of Interpol, agency of international crime detection. The order merely called for police to watch them, and made no mention of any charges.

Riordan said a girl mentioned in the police alert, Janette Forest, 27, of Montreal, Canada, had traveled with them only as far as Nice, sharing expenses.

Check Papers

"The first time we found out that anyone was looking for us was in the morning when they sent us an invitation to go to the station house," Vitacco said. "They said they wanted to check our papers."

He reported they went unaccompanied.

Riordan said they sat around about 15 minutes before an officer called for the youngest man—Vitacco—and went with him to search the room.

"We played pinochle and even bought the cops lunch," said Riordan. "Then we began to get tired of it and started shouting. We said we wanted to call the embassy or someone. A few minutes later a moustached police officer came in and said:

"'It is a mistake and you are free to go wherever you like.'"

Earlier, in New York, Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas P. Cullen of Queens had said some of the men had been under investigation but "we have come to the conclusion that they are practically cleared." He said New York had not asked for surveillance.

Honors Come Our Way

It was an honor both to Nebraska and to Dean W. V. Lambert of the Nebraska University College of Agriculture that he was named this week to be one of a party of 11 American farm experts to represent the United States on a forthcoming tour of Russia's farm districts.

The exchange between the two nations grew out of an invitation extended by Iowans encouraging Russian agriculturists to come to the Midwest where perhaps they could find answers to Russia's trying problem of inadequate food production. The least the Iowans had to offer was neighborliness and a self-confidence built from a long record of advanced, effective farming that laughed at any apprehensions from showing the results to a rival nation. Russia's acceptance was accompanied by a friendly invitation to American agriculture to "pay us a return call."

Dean Lambert is an excellent selection and the stature of the University of Nebraska was extended by national recognition as a school well fitted to provide one of the nation's select eleven experts. Indeed Nebraska is an unusual agricultural state and by its character it has developed an extraordinary agricultural educational service. It is one that must serve diversity in climate, altitude and products. It has a booming cattle industry. It has dry land and irrigated farming. It has eastern and southeastern Nebraska where 30 inches of annnual rainfall is the rule rather than the exception. It has crops and practices in a variety that is not duplicated in other states.

There will be little in Russia however varied that will not remind Dean Lambert of some part of Nebraska and call to his mind the precise and best way of treating with it. Russia will find him a most welcome and helpful guest.

Congress Should Have Heard

Members of Congress could well have heard the words of Wendell E. Johnson, chief of the Missouri River Engineering division of the Army Corps of Engineers who spoke before the American Society of Civil Engineers at St. Louis, Mo., recently. What he said would have cleared many minds on the merits of the Missouri Basin development and its incidental services.

The Washington climate these past two years has been neither generous nor overly sympathetic with such major reclamation, flood control and power programs as the Missouri Basin project exemplifies.

Johnson was concerned principally with one phase of the functions of the great upper Missouri dams. Recalling that flood control was one of the major responsibilities of the chain of reservoirs he noted that they had also paid priceless dividends during the recent drought years as well. He said that 75 per cent of the river flow at Kansas City late in 1953 was stored water from upstream dams.

"If it were not for Ft. Peck reservoir navigation on the Mississippi to and above St. Louis would have been suspended in late September of that year," he declared.

The nine year old basin program, though still uncompleted, was further calculated by Johnson to have saved $264,640,000 in damage in the 1951 Missouri flood—a saving that would have been substantially greater had protective installations been farther along.

Johnson did not dwell on other great services of the Basin development. But he could have gone to convincing length on the reclamation of crop land in the Dakotas that will come with the development of Basin irrigation. And he could have said much for the abundant supplies of low cost electric power ready to flow into Nebraska, where it is needed for irrigation development, but where it is being delayed by congressional reluctance to finance transmission facilities and by the administration's failure to envision the great benefits, and, therefore, its refusal to provide the insistent leadership needed to expedite the full fruiting of the program.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

There is a curious bit of scuttlebutt making the rounds in some rural Nebraska communities in advance of the wheat referendum on quotas for the 1956 crop. Whether there is any real basis for the rumors is not clear. But it is said in some quarters that wheat growers are being urged to reject the quotas imposed upon them by the Benson program in order to throw the whole issue of the farm program back into the laps of the members of Congress.

No Choice For Them

The reasoning runs something like this. If in the vital referendum set for next Saturday the quotas established by Secretary Benson and his associates are rejected, then the present law stipulates that the price support for wheat shall be based at 50 per cent of parity. To say the least, that would send chills up and down the spines of the members of Congress, whether the political label they wear is Republican or Democrat. They well know that in farm districts, particularly in the farm districts of the big wheat-producing states of the Midwest, including Nebraska, Kansas, the Dakotas, Colorado, Montana, Oklahoma and Texas, they will be flirting with defeat if it develops that rejection of the quotas established by the Department of Agriculture results in a 50 per cent support price. When they vote next Saturday, the wheat farmer has no choice. There is no alternative open to him except to approve the number of acres he may plant, determined by Secretary Benson and his staff. It comes pretty close to being that or nothing. And while the wheat farmer may be a "hayseed" in the eyes of some of those who are telling him what he can or cannot do, the wheat farmer still knows the score. He knows that he does not have a choice. He can either take the program forced upon him by Secretary Benson by Benson's crusade against surpluses, or he can leave it alone.

★

It is an important election next Saturday. There are an approximate 40,000 wheat growers in Nebraska, or one out of every two now deriving a livelihood on the land produce some wheat in varying amounts. The big wheat grower with a much larger allotment still is not happy with the quota assigned to him. The small wheat grower, with only a few permissible acres to plant, is still even more unhappy

For Finishing Punch

It may be unfair to Secretary Benson but in some agricultural areas, we are told, the feeling is growing that he is out to knock out the farm program It is a bit difficult to believe that the cabinet spokesman for the farm people in this country would do away with the program which has brought farm prosperity over a 20-year period. It is not a question, however, of eliminating legislation for a farm program. Whenever that program becomes unworkable, then the farm program is as dead as if Secretary Benson had succeeded in selling Congress on the idea of tossing the legislation establishing it completely out the window. In a practical sense, it is dead. Now, just ahead of this wheat referendum, there are those unkind enough to suggest that if Mr. Benson is going to give the wheat grower no choice except to approve the pattern established by him, the wheat grower may decide that Mr. Benson should explain it all to Congress. Speaking politically, Congress is reputed to know on which side its bread is buttered.

★

There was good news as the wheat harvest got under way in Nebraska. Fields were doing better than had been anticipated. There was the possibility that drought earlier would turn out to be not as destructive as had been anticipated. But there will be less wheat money in Nebraskans' pockets than a year ago, less than two years ago, and if this thing keeps on developing as it has, less in 1956. The President must have been feeling the heat because at a news conference he told correspondents that his program could not be responsible for present conditions because it was not yet in effect. Would he have the wheat farmer believe that his program is not at least partly in effect after Benson cut acreage here in Nebraska 18 per cent for the crop of 1954, and still another 12 per cent for the crop of 1955, the crop for which the first threshing returns were reported yesterday?

What Replacement?

Reminisceint of the closeness of the fight over the earlier Kerr bill to exempt the natural gas industry from federal regulation, one notes the 16-to-15 vote by a House committee in favor of non-regulation as expressed in the current revival of the question.

During the Truman administration the Senate voted 44 to 38 in favor of the Kerr bill and it took a presidential veto to prevent it from becoming a law.

There is an interesting connotation in the disfavor of the principle of utilities regulation by recent Congresses. The nation long ago agreed that it was in the public interest to apply rate controls and constructive regulation to utilities doing interstate business, of course with protectives to the regulated group in the form of earning guarantees. It seemed to be a settled policy and a reasonably successful one.

It is hard for the average citizen to detect a valid difference between regulating interstate gas pipeline operations and regulating interstate electric utilities, railroads, and telephone service. Nevertheless the attitude of the Congress indicates there is one.

But perhaps the pipeline question signifies a turning away from the general principle of utility regulation. If that is the case, then the public has a right to ask, if regulation was adopted to improve abuses in the conduct of interstate utilities, what formula does Congress have of sufficient improvement to warrant the termination of regulation?

Incredible Kingdom

World diplomats have been caught short. They thought they knew all about geography and what makes with people wherever it abounds. It was a complete surprise when an unknown nation calling itself the Kingdom of Humanity made application for recognition and membership in the world postal union. The kingdom says it occupies islands in the China Sea. We doubt that recognition will be granted. The Kingdom of Humanity doesn't have an enemy which is something any mature and consequential nation must have. And if it isn't mad at anyone it doesn't need postal service, having no indignant letters to write. And no one writes those "Wish you were here" kind internationally anymore. The receiver is apt to accept and come with his entire army.

Wealthy Sen. Bush Against Pay Raise

WASHINGTON — The record on Sen. Prescott Bush, Connecticut Republican, is a little worse than when I first reported it last week. Sen. Bush not only has a secret expense fund raised by wealthy friends on Wall Street, and is one of the wealthiest men in the Senate, but on top of this made two of the longest speeches against raising congressmen's salaries when that question was up for debate.

Sen. Bush made it clear during this debate that he thought membership in the Senate should be reserved for those who could afford it. But he did not reveal to any of his colleagues that wealthy friends were raising over $25,000 for his TV, radio and publicity, and that no record was being made of these contributors.

His own Republican colleague from Connecticut, William Purtell, argued with him at some length on the Senate floor, but the more Sen. Bush argued back, the more it became clear that he thought the Senate should be, in effect, an exclusive millionaires' club.

☆ ☆ ☆

SENATOR PURTELL ARGUES

This so surprised his friend and GOP colleague from Connecticut that Purtell asked:

"Would the senator feel that one of the prerequisites for membership in the Congress should be either inherited or acquired wealth before becoming a member of Congress?"

"Will the senator repeat the question?" parried Bush of Connecticut.

"I think I had better repeat the question," replied Purtell of Connecticut. "Is it the senator's opinion that one of the tests for ability to serve in the House or the Senate should be either inherited or acquired wealth?"

"No" replied Bush, "I would not say there should be any such test."

"My experience has been," pressed his GOP colleague from Connecticut, obviously not satisfied with the answer, "That many members of the House of Representatives with growing families and children who have to be sent to school find it impossible to make ends meet."

"Does the senator agree with me that such persons do have difficulty in making both ends meet in view of the fact that they have two homes to maintain and are trying to educate their children and at the same time are trying to meet the demands of their constituents by going back and forth between their districts and Washington?

"May I further ask the senator," pressed Purtell, "whether he thinks such persons should deny to their loved ones some of the necessities in the way of education and otherwise that more wealthy men and women can give to their families and children?"

Sen. Bush at no time intimated that friends were raising a secret fund to help him go back and forth to meet with his constituents. But, in replying to Purtell, he did give away his belief that people without money should not serve in Congress.

"I would remind the senator," he told his colleague from Connecticut, "that such persons are not compelled by any requirements except their own preference to serve in the House.

Survival By Ignorance May Prove To Be Bliss

Survival by ignorance is a new theory in practice at our house. It applies to marriage.

The way it came about was that Mrs. F. had been sitting at the dining room table most of the evening, scribbling on pieces of paper, when she looked up and said, "Do you know that our marriage is on the rocks?"

"Don't get excited," I said. "I promise, cross my heart, that I'll put those screens up first thing tomorrow morning."

"It isn't the screens," she said dolefully. "It's just that we never should have married in the first place, and we do not have the ghost of a chance for happiness."

"Is it my pipe? I didn't know you objected so strongly—."

She said it was not the pipe. In fact, it wasn't anything that anybody could do anything about. Then she explained.

☆ ☆ ☆

"I just thought it would be fun to collect a lot of these 'How to be Happy Though Married' articles from the magazines, and save them, and then take all the tests they give, all at the same time," she said. "So I did, and tonight I've been filling out the tests—all 14 of them—and, well, we're just doomed to failure."

"You should have told me before our children got so old," I said. "How do we score in the tests?"

"There are two where we get real high scores," she answered, "but in all the others, you're a bum.

"What are you?"

"I'm one, too.

In that case, I said, perhaps we'd better just put up with one another, but she said no, we were incompatible bums.

She showed me the tests, and sure enough, we were guilty of a lot of thoughtlessness, carelessness and such. Besides, where we couldn't figure out what the questions were driving at, our score looked like an arctic cold wave.

"And all this time," Mrs. F. lamented, "I thought we were doing so well, and for all these years our friends have been fooled, too. Won't it be a shock to them?"

"They'd never guess, if we don't tell them," I suggested.

☆ ☆ ☆

The light of a happy idea came to Mrs. F.'s face. She said, "If I threw all these psychological tests in the waste basket, there would be no evidence, would there? And we could pretend that we're just as happy as we've always thought we were, couldn't we?"

"I betcha that in a few days we'd forget about the tests and wouldn't even have to pretend," I concurred.

So the test scores went the way of all waste paper, and we reached a further agreement: After this, we decide for ourselves whether our marriage is a happy one, and if the testing people have to use somebody for their tests, they can stick to guinea pigs, for all of us.

Johnson Zeroing In On Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON — Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson made an impulsive and angry decision on the floor of the Senate late Monday night. It was to give Sen. McCarthy enough rope to hang himself on the foreign policy issue.

Tuesday afternoon, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee began paying out the rope. It held a formal hearing on Sen. McCarthy's resolution expressing the sense of the Senate that the Big-Four meeting at the summit should discuss the "disposition of the nations of Eastern Europe and Asia now under Communist control."

Johnson had already touched all his committee bases. All the Democratic majority, in person or by proxy, is expected to vote solidly against the proposed invasion of the President's power to conduct the foreign policy of the United States.

The President has already said that at Geneva he hopes to create climates for peace rather than conduct crucial negotiations. This view was reiterated before the committee by acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Johnson schedule puts the resolution before the Senate as soon as possible. There he will demand a roll call vote to show who stands with McCarthy and who with the policy shaped by President in close co-operation with Democrat Walter George, chairman of Senate Foreign Relations.

To stress that this represents an issue of his leadership, Johnson made an unusual personal appearance before the committee Tuesday to explain his plans. He grimly promised McCarthy a vote and he seems entirely confident that he is in the driver's seat.

By their questions, Republican senators, including Minority Leader William Knowland, indicated support of the President. Many of them are uneasy for the President has made a 180-degree turn in traditional GOP policy but they need him too much to risk an open quarrel now.

If Sen. McCarthy knew or cared that he was the object of a considered move to cut him down to size, he gave no sign. Unusually sleek and shaven, he was after all enjoying the benzedrine of publicity so completely denied him of late. True the committee crowded reporters and spectators—there could be only a few—into their small room. But the cameras and the floodlights were focused upon McCarthy to his vast enjoyment.

☆ ☆ ☆

There are those in the Capitol who think this is a mistake. Even in newspapers supporting him McCarthy has lately been page 18. To revive him even momentarily carries risk. Nor can the press be blamed. A senator is news when the Foreign Relations Committee is called into a rush session to consider his resolution.

Johnson defended his plans for formal burial of McCarthy foreign policy in a private skull session with Senators Barkley, Fulbright, Morse and Mansfield before the committee, of which the four are members, met. The Texan argued that McCarthy would never finish complaining unless he got action on his resolution.

Che-Che, The Mighty Midget

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Six-year-old Diana Parrish of 1235 Van Dorn is a lady "Gulliver" among her pets. She is a gentle and loving giantess to Che-Che, her Toy Manchester, and to Twinkle, her bantam chicken.

Although Che-Che is a puny six pounds, she returns Diana's love with a protective motherly instinct that would put a St. Bernard to shame.

What she lacks in brute strength, she makes up in her ferocious bark that will shatter the nerves of a stranger on the Parrish porch.

The Manchester does not object to being dressed in doll clothes and riding in Diana's baby buggy, just as long as the fun stays in the family. Che-Che, the Tyler Parrishes admit, is a one-family dog.

The three-year-old dog will happily spend her daytime hours with Diana. But come time for Tyler to come home, from then until the last light is out for the night, Che-Che is oblivious to all but Tyler. She snuggles in his lap and parks there until he moves.

Che-Che has some slight competition for the affections of the family, though. The Old English Silver Duck Wings bantam chickens are great favorites, and a parakeet keeps up a continual attention-getting chatter.

☆ ☆ ☆

But Tyler has been raising Manchesters for more than 30 years, so Che-Che need have no fear of loss of love. Her breed is in good standing with the head of the home.

One of the dog's favorite tricks is to turn the back yard into a dog trap and bomp around it like a wild riderless horse.

When she tires of that, Che-Che begins digging around in the yard, hunting for a stray mouse. The breed is noted for its excellent rodent-hunting abilities.

So far Che-Che has failed to chalk up a single mouse, but her intentions are the best. Besides, the Parrishes have little sympathy with bringing dead mice home for the family to admire.

Congress Cool—Ice Bill Down

WASHINGTON — On the job at this writing, governing us, is a calm collected Congress, working harmoniously for our benefit.

I am certain about this because I have the official figures: On July 1, 1954, the gentlemen appropriated $2,000 to buy ice for their fevered brows. Now, nearly a year later, they've used up only $905.28 worth and they've got $1,094.72 in ice-money left over. Seldom before have the lawgivers used so little ice. This is a good sign.

Other fiscal developments before the House Appropriations Committee on the cost of running Congress leave me a little doubtful. But I've still got faith in the statesmen. If they want to spend $1,800 to buy 225 new electric clocks for their offices in the old House Office Building, that's reasonable enough. They ought to know what time it is.

They're figuring on appropriating another $30,000 to subsidize their restaurant, which serves good food at low prices, and loses this sum every year. This is probably the most patriotic lunchroom in America. During the war the gentlemen decided as a conservation measure to deprive themselves of bread and butter.

They're still conserving wheat and butter fat, while across the little park the Agriculture committeemen are worrying about what to do with the tremendous surpluses of these two eatables.

The representatives also are buying up some vacant lots nearby with the hope of starting construction on their third office building. They now have an old office building and a new office building. Eventually they will have an old new office building and a new old office building and the jokesmiths even now are at work on the subject. It developed further in a letter to the legislators from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield that in 1954 alone, they mailed, free 39,841,300 letters to the folks back home. That's a lot of mail for even three office buildings and the gentlemen are considering automatic addressing machines for their envelopes. I trust they turned down this one.

Once a fellow got on his congressman's mailing list, with his name stamped on a steel plate, his postbox would bulge for the rest of his life. Those address plates never wear out.

The gentlemen are figuring on spending $1,650 to hire an attendant for their new prayer room. They overlooked this somehow when the room was built last year and anybody who wants to enter now must ask first for the key.

For painting the outside of the capitol dome the representatives intend to spend $65,000 and for painting the inside, $37,500. This latter sum includes scraping off the rusty spots and if the fee seems high, so's that dome. A painter's got to be a steeplejack to work up there and he charges extra.

Then there's the small matter of a big picture, entitled, "Battle of Lake Erie." Some miscreant on last March 26 tossed a brick through it, or maybe a congressional directory, and danged near ruined the whole canvas, size, 20 by 30 feet.

The man said patching this work of art would come to $23,700. Rep. Walt Horan (R-Wash) said if it cost so much to fix ripped masterpieces, why not cover them with plate glass?

J. G. Stewart, Architect of the capitol, said that was a good idea, except for the fact that the brick would smash the glass and the pictures really would get ripped. Furthermore, said he, canvas under glass might get mildewed and then you're really in trouble.

The senators will get $17,000 for new rugs and the total cost of running the House of Representatives will be $33,769,340. This includes the savings on the ice bill.

Point Of Concentration

Exeter, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A story in The Lincoln Star Tuesday, front page, top of column, quotes Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), speaker at a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Omaha, as accusing Republicans of attempting to "substitute President Eisenhower for the party he represents."

If I remember correctly, all the Republicans did was nominate Mr. Eisenhower to be their candidate. The people of the United States elected him and he is the President of the United States, not of the Republican party.

Let's not spend too much time fighting each other. We may be fighting the Commies one of these days. Suppose we concentrate on that.

Board Of Control

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: You should be complimented on the editorial, "Legislature Studies," in the June 18 Star, and the point you have brought out in regard to the Board of Control.

Evidently those who desire to put the institutions back under political rule have no idea what the conditions were and have not investigated. If they took the time to consider, they would know that such a state can and does become deplorable, as it was in the past.

Surely the people of Nebraska would not allow this to happen again. The condition resulted in the present set-up with a bi-partisan Board of Control, which to me is very commendable.

Conferees OK 7½ Pct. Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House negotiators Wednesday agreed on a 7½ per cent pay raise for government workers. Leaders of both parties predicted speedy approval by Congress and the President.

As agreed on by a Conference made effective as of last March 1. Committee, the increase would be It would apply to 1,073,262 federal employes, all but 90,205 of them in the classified Civil Service. The remainder are mainly congressional, judicial and foreign service workers.

Same As House Plan

After months of batting around, the pay tables adopted in conference were just about the same as those voted by the House on Monday. They work out to within a few dollars of an across-the-board 7½ per cent raise and create a salary range from $2,690 to $14,800 in the general Civil Service schedule.

All told, the increases will add about 328 million dollars to the government's $4,350,000,000 payroll for covered employes. The average 8 per cent increase recently granted postal workers tacked some 165 millions to that department's two-billion-dollar field service payroll.

The Eisenhower administration originally had recommended a 5 per cent Civil Service boost. Congressional sources said the President was likely to accept 7½ per cent—but no more.

Gartner Brings In First Wheat

PAULINE, Neb. (AP) — Paul Gartner, farmer near Glenvil, brought the first 1955 wheat in this area to an elevator.

The Wichita variety wheat, 50 bushels from two acres, tested 58 pounds with moisutre content 14.5 per cent.

West Dodge Freeway Believed Assured

OMAHA (AP) — Chamber of Commerce President A. V. Sorensen said Wednesday the West Dodge highway is almost assured of becoming a modern, four-lane freeway.

Sorensen said the final answer should be known within six months.

He reported that state and chamber officials reached "complete agreement" on improvements for the highway at a meeting.

The meeting included Gov. Anderson and State Engineer L. N. Ress. It was called by Sorensen after a phone conversation with Commissioner of Public Roads C. D. Curtiss.

Sorensen said Curtis "told me that he personally would see to it that federal aid would be assured in the not-too-distant future if we would get started on improvements."

Last week Ress said the state might have to spend $400,000 of its own money to resurface the present roadway. The Bureau of Federal Roads had refused to grant federal money for resurfacing.

Sorensen said at this week's meeting Ress agreed to scrap his plans for resurfacing. No money will be spent on West Dodge except for critical repairs, until a program is developed as a basis for future resurfacing.

Sorensen said it is felt that a survey of Omaha area roads "will show that West Dodge should become a modern freeway."

Ress said the entire survey may be finished in a year, rather than in the originally estimated time of 18 months or two years, and that results will be available piecemeal.

Inter-Agency Officials Delay Project Requests

Mid-State, Fort Randall-Grand Island Power Line Proposals Presented Group

By BASIL RAFFETY

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP) — The Missouri Basin Inter Agency Committee (MBIAC) was asked Wednesday to support two specific Nebraska projects.

Gen. Potter

But the committee withheld consideration of the requests for an executive session.

Brig. Gen. W. E. Potter, Omaha, Missouri River division engineer who is the new chairman of the committee, suggested deferring the discussion. He succeeds Harold Engstrom of Lincoln, USDA representative.

In both cases the possibility was suggested that the Missouri River States Committee, made up of governors of the basin states, might be the group that would have to give final consideration to the proposals.

Mid - State Reclamation District, which proposes a $44 million irrigation, power project in Central Nebraska asked it be recommended as an integral part of the Missouri basin development program. The second request was for support of a proposed Fort Randall, S. D., dam to Grand Island 230-kv line.

John Clema of Broken Bow, spokesman for the Nebraska Rural Electric Assn., asked the state representative on the committee to help get federal funds for the line in order to "insure Nebraska a fair share of federally produced power."

Special Meet Asked

Clema asked Gov. Norman Brunsdale of North Dakota, chairman of the state committee, to consider a special meeting on the subject, but Brunsdale said this could probably not be done immediately.

Irrigation and drought took up the afternoon with Dean W. V. Lambert of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, saying possibly 30 million acres of great plains lands should be taken out of crop production and restored to grass. He did not break the amounts down as to states.

Lambert cautioned against conservation payments "which aid continued misuse of land" and asserted all incentive payments need continual reviewing to determine their effectiveness.

Water Projects Talked

Reclamation projects in Nebraska were sketched by Bureau of Reclamation Region 7 Director R. J. Walter Jr. who said fast work in awarding contracts has speeded up progress of the Milburn diversion dam in the Sargent unit. The dam is scheduled for completion next May.

Governors present for the session were Brunsdale, Foss, South Dakota, and Anderson, Nebraska.

The shift from dryland to irrigation farming and how governmental agencies can help in effecting the change were explained by the University of Nebraska's John C. Steele, assistant extension engineer, and Paul Fischbach, district extension irrigation engineer.

Problems of resource development and flood control in the Platte River Basin were up for discussion at Wednesday's meeting.

In a review of flood problems in the Platte River Basin, which he termed a basin of extremes, Col. Thomas J. Hayes III, Omaha district engineer, said overall flooding on bottom lands along the main stem of the Platte are extremely rare, but there are still large uncontrolled tributary areas remaining in the basin.

He cited as examples the Gering Valley where 17 floods have occurred since 1931, Mud Creek, a tributary of the South Loup River adjacent to Broken Bow, Columbus on the Loup River, Norfolk and Waterloo on the Elkhorn River, and Lincoln on Salt Creek.

At present the office of the chief of engineers has under study a plan for control of Shell Creek from Newman Grove to below Platte Center, and if the present budget is approved, the engineers will have $25,000 for advance engineering and design studies on the Norfolk project in the Elkhorn Basin.

The engineers plan for flood control in the Salt-Wahoo Basin calling for 12 reservoirs, channel improvement and levees now has been approved by the board of engineers for rivers and harbors and has been submitted to the governor and interested federal agencies for comment, Col. Hayes said.

Salt-Wahoo Flood Bills Introduced

Nebraska Congressmen have introduced bills to authorize construction of a $12,683,000 Salt-Wahoo flood control project in Nebraska.

Rep. Phil Weaver introduced the bill in the House and Sen. Roman Hruska introduced a companion bill in the Senate.

The bill would authorize construction by the Army Corps of Engineers of 12 retention dams in the area of Salt Creek, Wahoo Creek and their tributaries

The region includes most of Lancaster County and parts of Butler, Seward, Saunders and Gage Counties.

The bill only authorizes construction. A separate bill appropriating funds for the work would have to be introduced later.

The project has the approval of various federal agencies including the Department of Agriculture and the Army Engineers, as well as Gov. Victor Anderson.

Eden Backs A-Plan

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden backed the new atoms-for-peace program outlined June 11 by President Eisenhower.

Thunderstorms On Weather Menu

Scattered showers and thundershowers are expected Thursday in New England, the northern Appalachians and upper Great Lakes area. Afternoon thunderstorms are likely in the southeast, along the central Gulf coast and the south and central Plains. Some thunderstorm activity is expected along the eastern slopes of the south and central Rockies. It will be slightly cooler in the middle Atlantic states, the Ohio and Tennessee valleys and northern Rockies. There will be little temperature change elsewhere. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Irrigation Water Supply Is Declared Sufficient

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department reported Wednesday the outlook for irrigation water from Reclamation Bureau reservoirs appears sufficient to mature crops this season except in a few isolated isstances.

Acting Secretary Clarence A. Davis said "carryover storage from other years in reclamation reservoirs accounts for the favorable outlook in spite of prevailing drought conditions over most of the West in recent months."

He noted that unusual rains had improved conditions in parts of the Columbia and Colorado River Basins and that parts of the Upper Arkansas, Canadian and Red River Basins also had received heavy rains.

Missouri Basin Good

"There has been marked improvement in water supplies in the Tucumcari and Vermejo projects in New Mexico and the W. C. Austin project in Oklahoma, where storage had been very low," Davis said.

"The outlook is poor for projects on the Rio Grande in New Mexico and Texas and subnormal for many other areas in the southwest."

He gave a summary report by Reclamation Bureau regions which included:

Northern Missouri River Basin watershed: Prospects above normal for the Angostura Reservoir in South Dakota, subnormal for the Belle Fourche project in that state, and normal for other projects.

Lower Missouri River Basin: Prospects subnormal for the Colorado—Big Thompson project and the North Platte project and normal for the rest of the region.

E. M. Replogle, Veteran Miller At Omaha, Is Dead

OMAHA (AP) — E. M. Replogle, 85, Omaha, veteran miller, died Wednesday in an Omaha hospital.

Replogle worked for the Miller Cereal Mills in Lincoln and Omaha. He was employed by the Kellog Co. after it leased the Miller firm.

At one time he was superintendent of the Miller corn flakes plant.

He spent 15 months in Moscow in 1932 and 1933 supervising construction of a cereal mill.

Survivors include two sons, Russel Weir, San Marino, Calif., and Fay Norris, Kansas City, Mo.

Funeral services will be held here Saturday.

Air Force Given Okay For Use Of Scribner Field

OMAHA (AP) — Federal Judge James A. Donohoe Wednesday gave the Air Force permission to take immediate possession of about 119 acres of the Scribner State Airfield.

Judge Donohoe signed an order with the consent of Rush Clarke, attorney for the Nebraska Department of Aeronautics. The court will hold a hearing in about 30 days to set the price to be paid by the federal government for improvements the state has put on the land.

The Air Force plans to establish an ionospheric sounding station at the airfield. This has been described as an experiment in measuring sky layers which affect long-range radio operation.

Congressmen Meet Crosby's Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Gov. Robert Crosby of Nebraska, an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for U.S. Senator last year, has commented with a grin:

"I have not a tiny bit of criticism of the work of the Nebraska members of Congress."

Crosby's comment was made in a brief talk at the weekly breakfast of the Nebraska congressional delegation.

Sen. Curtis (R-Neb) won the primary nomination over Crosby and won against his Democratic rival in the November elections.

Crosby smilingly referred to his being an unsuccessful candidate and said he'd been keeping a pretty close watch over the activities of the Nebraska senators.

Nebraska delegates to the National 4-H Club camp here attended the breakfast. Speaking for the farm youngsters, Morris Oschner of Madison presented the Nebraska members of Congress with silver letter openers, on which were inscribed "Silver anniversary National 4-H Camp."

Also attending was Miss Cora Briggs, a Lincoln pharmacist, who is a former 4-H girl and attended one of the camps here. She was one of several hundred former 4-H girls who returned this year for the 25th anniversary camp.

Bart Moore of Bayard and Henry Orthman of Lexington said they were here in the interests of largest acreages for Nebraska sugar beet growers.

Chris Milius of Omaha explained he came here to attend a conference of the National Agricultural Advisory Committee, of which he is a member.

Speaking of a visit he made some months ago to European nations, Milius said that the exporters of wheat have destroyed the confidence of Europeans in the American farmer.

He said that on all sides he heard criticism of the quality of American export wheat, largely because of the quantity of sand and dirt mixed in the wheat.

DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

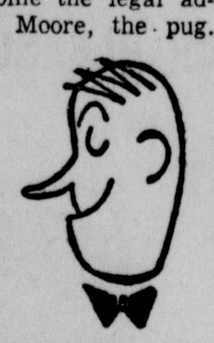
NEW YORK (INS) — Sideglances at celebrities—



Mike DiSalle, former price stabilizer, has become the legal adviser to Archie Moore, the pug. Archie's predicament touched him: Fighting since 1933, no money, not much chance of ever getting a fat purse. When Moore won the light-heavyweight championship of the world from Joey Maxim the contract was such that he had to borrow money to pay his way home.

Mike likes Archie but feels his friend may have plunged him into a state of guilt by association. Archie sent his legal eagle a bottle of dry white South American wine recently, which Mike enjoyed very much. Turns out that it was a gift to Archie from Archie's very good friend, Juan Peron.

June Lockhart, the smartest girl in the world, and probably the prettiest, stepped off "Who Said That?" recently and appeared on another TV panel show, "Down You Go," which is moderated by Dr. Bergen Evans, professor of English at Northwestern University. Another guest was Dunninger, the incredible man who can read thoughts at a thousand paces.

Demonstration

"Dr. Evans has written a couple of books knocking extra-sensory perception," June was telling John Daly at Shor's. "He had a session with Dunninger the day before the show, just to assure the mentalist that he didn't believe for an instant that it was possible to mind-read.

"At the meeting Dunninger put on a tremendous demonstration, telling Dr. Evans just what thoughts were passing through his mind, or what word he was concentrating upon. Dr. Evans was shaken and hardly knew what to say when Dunninger, in leaving, announced, "I'll be outstanding on your show. I'll know just what quotations are coming up. I can't miss.'

"What saved Dr. Evans from a bad night was that, upon uttering his last boast, Dunninger reached for the knob of the door, flung it open grandly, and walked into a broom closet."

Biggest Story

Conn McCreary, the most gentlemanly jockey, was remembering the time in Florida when he, Ted Atkinson and Pat Lynch of the New York Journal American sweated out one of the biggest sports stories —and probably the most nerve-wracking—of that season. The jockeys had received letters threatening to kill them unless they turned over information to the writer. Pat was aware of the story, held the release of it until the boys went through the FBI, and was rewarded with a fine scoop.

"When the fellow was nabbed," Conn reçalled, "somebody told him that it was a great mistake to threaten me . . . that I would have helped him on whatever his problem was if he had just come to me and said he needed help.

"So he winds up in the can and wrote me a letter. He asked me to adopt all his children."

Long-time friend of mine, name of Caswell Adams, spent the other night with us and was slightly unnerved to find children in bed with him the next morning. They dropped in on him because they wanted to meet him. The little girl, after shaking him awake, told him a long story about her weekend in Allenhurst, N. J. The punch-line of her story was that she had a swim in the pool of the Allenhurst Beach Club.

"Didn't you go in the ocean?" Mr. Adams, ever civil, asked.

She shook her head. "It isn't open yet," she said resignedly.

HOUSE GROUP OK'S IKE'S PUBLIC HOUSING PROGRAM

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Banking Committee voted Wednesday to go along with President Eisenhower's public housing program of 35,000 new units a year for the next two years.

By a reported overwhelming vote, it substituted the President's program for the much larger program of low rent public housing passed by the Senate June 7 and calling for 135,000 units during each of the next foar years.

A motion by Rep. McDonough (R-Calif) to kill off new public housing entirely was defeated by a 15-5 vote.

Stiff Fight Seen

The committee's bill faces a possible stiff fight for even greater restrictions on public housing starts when it reaches the House floor.

The committee still has other sections of the omnibus measure to consider before sending the bill to the House.

The administration housing program, in addition to 35,000 new units a year for fiscal 1956 and 1957, provides for the carryover into next year of some 20,000 units authorized but not programmed for the current fiscal year ending this June 30.

It also asks removal of existing restrictions against any new public housing unless it is tied directly to slum clearance and urban redevelopment programs in the affected communities.

State Road Advisory Commission To Meet

The State Highway Advisory Commission will hold its monthly meeting here Monday, but State Engineer L. N. Ress said he has no idea whether road relocation matters will be discussed.

Ress, who serves as commission secretary, said there is no agenda for the meeting.

At least six relocation cases are awaiting recommendations by the commission. The commissioners previously have contended they had been waiting for the Legislature to pass the bill defining powers and duties of the commission.

The measure, clarifying the role of the two-year old advisory body, was approved last month.

Scientists Say Russia Set Off 2 Super Bombs Equal To U.S.'s

. . . Fallout Dangers Underscored

CHICAGO (INS) — Top atomic scientists said Wednesday that Russia has exploded two super bombs apparently the equal of the United State's prize uranium bomb.

Five University of Chicago physicists said the first blast came sometime in April and the second last month. The five scientists are Arthur Rosenfeld, William Davidon, Elliot Silverstein, Samuel Allison and S. E. Warshaw.

They agreed that the two Soviet bomb blasts "may well be the equal of our uranium bomb set off in the spring of 1954."

Fallout Danger Emphasized

The significance of the disclosure underscored the dangers of radiation fallout which was explained June 3 by Dr. William F. Libby at a university alumni reunion.

Dr. Libby, U.S. Atomic Energy Commission member, said that a U-bomb detonated on land might spread severe radiation over a 100,000 square mile area—an area roughly twice the size of Illinois.

If winds restricted the spread of the fallout, he warned, the radiation might be so deadly that persons trapped in the area would not be able to leave shelters safely for a week.

Deadly Radio Strontium

Fallout from a 20-megaton uranium bomb was computed by Dr. Ralph E. Lapp one of the sceintists who helped develop the atomic bomb. He has figured that the 20-megaton bomb would contain three pounds of radio strontium, a rare chemical 100 million times more deadly than chlorine gas.

Lapp said a tiny fraction of this dust scattered over a mile square area would be enough to cause bone tumors many years afterwards. Plants would absorb the deadly radiation and in turn would infect animals eating the plants. It would be years, Lapp said, before humans could eat any food or animals from the affected areas.

He pointed out that in the Bikini test the deadly strontium sank to the ocean bottom.

Cheaper Bombs

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago area atomic scientists speculated that the United States has a new, more powerful and cheaper atomic bomb.

Members of the Atomic Scientists of Chicago released a statement to that effect at a luncheon on the University of Chicago campus.

"Scientists have suggested," the statement said, "that the hydrogen bomb detonated in the Pacific in March of 1954 was actually a new device — a hydrogen-uranium bomb yielding thousands of times the radioactivity produced by the atomic bombs tested in Nevada, or by simple hydrogen bombs."

The statement added that a speech made at the University of Chicago June 3 by Dr. Willard F. Libby, member of the Atomic Energy Commission, was "the first major speech to give sufficient information supporting this hypothesis."

Libby, on leave from the university's institute for nuclear studies, spoke on "radioactive fallout" at an alumni reunion. Scientists at the luncheon said the speech was highly technical.

The scientists said Libby's speech indicated that "ordinary, cheap uranium" was the major explosive content of the Pacific bomb.

173 Returning

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—An official announcement said 173 Austrians released from Soviet slave labor camps will arrive in Vienna this weekend.

Among the released are 47 women, including Dr. Margarete Ottilinger, a high Austrian government official, who was arrested by the Russians in 1948 at a Soviet zone check point.

Haynie Heads Lincoln General Board;SucceedsBennettMartin

Haynie

Rosenlof

Mrs. Ellis

Ferris

Harry R. Haynie was named president of the Lincoln General Hospital board of trustees at its regular meeting. He had been vice president.

Haynie succeeds City Councilman Bennett S. Martin as head of the hospital board. Martin remains a member of the obard.

George W. Rosenlof, a past president of the board was named vice president.

Mrs. James Ellis was re-elected secretary and Walton Ferris was elected treasurer.

The board discussed plans for staffing the hospital emergency room previously staffed by interns or resident physicians.

No Lincoln hospital this year received any medical school graduates as interns or residents. It is now impossible for Lincoln General to have a physician present in the hospital at all times, Herbert Anderson, hospital administrator, said.

But Lincoln General will have listed at all times a small group of physicians who can be called to the emergency room within a few minutes after emergency cases arrive.

In such cases the nurse on duty will get one of these physicians immediately to care for the patient if he does not ask for his own physician or if his physician cannot be reached.

Lincoln General also will have a monthly on-call list of specialists available for emergencies.

Staff physicians will treat an emergency patient only until his own physician can be reached.

Interns' quarters in the hospital building will be maintained so that physicians on call for emergencies may stay there if they wish, the administrator said.

Confessed Killer Is Nabbed After Michigan Escape

IONIA, Mich. (AP) — A confessed killer, described as desperate and dangerous, was captured without trouble Wednesday night after 24 hours of freedom from the Ionia State Reformatory.

The fugitive, James Ecker, 19, was seized as he tried to elude state police by swimming across the Grand River.

Ecker was taken two hours after he was spotted by a former reformatory employe walking along the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad tracks on the eastern outskirts of Ionia.

Drowned Out

CHICAGO (INS) — Civil Defense corps officials said that one woman, within four blocks of one of Chicago's largest air raid sirens, reported she could not hear it during last week's practice alert.

She complained:

"The chirping of songbirds drowned out the siren."

ANOTHER BUSY ONE

ANOTHER busy week-end is peering over the horizon—and as we check the calendar for the Friday-to-Monday period we discover that the activity involves a variety of events—

There is, of course, a wedding Saturday in Sioux City, Ia.—that of Miss Norma Lothrop and Stephen Carveth—So, on Friday Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Carveth, their daughter, Miss Sarah Carveth, and their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs, Larry McKee of Chicago, will go to Sioux City to attend the prenuptial dinner on Friday evening—and the wedding on Saturday.

* * *

AND also to Sioux City and the wedding will go Mr. and Mrs. Max Roper, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wilson and Dr. and Mrs. Norman Carlson.

* * *

WHILE on the topic of weddings, and those who attend, we should include the marriage of Miss Ann Wachter of Omaha to James Egan, also of Omaha, which will be solemnized on Saturday morning at St. Margaret's Church.

Lincoln guests at the wedding will include the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hyland, and Mrs. B. G. Bauman of Alliance who will arrive in Lincoln on Friday evening.

* * *

THE bridal story continues with news of Miss Barbara Wylie, whose marriage to Robert Teel of San Francisco takes place on July 3—and her courtesies. Miss Wylie, who has been careering in San Francisco during the past year, returned to Lincoln on Monday, and her round of prenuptial parties begins on Friday when Mrs. Ross Idol will be a luncheon hostess at the Lincoln Country Club.

And on Saturday Miss Wylie will go to Omaha where she will be the honoree at a morning brunch for which Mrs. Glenn Rosenquist will be hostess at her home, and to which Gamma Phi Beta sisters of both the hostess and the bride-elect have been invited. Miss Wylie will be presented with a miscellaneous shower.

* * *

NOW off with processional aisle news—and on to other things—such as the fact that Miss Grace Shallenberger of Phoenix, Ariz., formerly of Lincoln, left Tuesday to return to her home after a visit with former University of Nebraska friends.

* * *

SOMEONE told us that Miss Kay Evans, who has completed her freshman year at the University of Colorado, has returned to Lincoln to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans.

* * *

BACK in town, so we hear, are Dr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Smith, Jr., and their son Larry who have returned from Estes Park, where they left their daughters and sister, Sharon and Judy Smith, at Camp Cheley for Girls.

* * *

AND WE hear that Pam Holloway also has gone to girls' camp at Cheley, and that off to Cheley for Boys have gone John Chapman, Bob Schrepf and Donald Hall who will spend eight weeks at the Colorado camp.

C Of C Women Hold Picnic

More than 100 members of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce attended a picnic held on Wednesday evening at Oak Creek Park. The arrangements for the fried chicken supper were in charge of Miss Mayme Stukel and her committee. Following the picnic the group attended the baseball game at Sherman Field.

The development of Oak Creek Park, where the picnic was held, is the special project of the Women's Division which has sponsored the planting of new trees, the new entrance to the park and its landscaping, and the remodeling of the skating shelter.

We Hear That

Mrs. Charles Bowel and two children of Ottawa, Ill., have arrived in Lincoln for a visit with Mrs. Bowel's mother, Mrs. Roscoe Crumbliss, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond DeLair.

★

Warrant Officer and Mrs. Arthur Mangrum and their daughter, Vicki, of El Paso, Tex., are the house guests of Mrs. Mangrum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Adams. Mrs. Mangrum is the former Katherine Adams.

★

Leaving Wednesday morning for their new home in Adell, Ia., were Mr. and Mrs. William B. Gubser. Mrs. Gubser is the former Carole Sandlovich.

Betrothal

MISS JANIS WICKER

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wicker of Clinton, Mo., of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janis Muriel, of Lincoln, to Donald R. Nightingale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Nightingale.

The wedding will take place at the Seventh-Day Adventist Church on Sunday, July 10.

Miss Wicker has attended Union College, and Mr. Nightingale is a student at LeTourneau Tech of Texas.

It Was A Big Day For Small Fry

The members of Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority entertained a group of children from Whitehall at a picnic lunch at Pioneers Park, and a tour of the Zoo at Antelope Park.

Havelock YW Camp Activities

The Havelock YWCA has started an unusual summer project for all teen age girls. Every Tuesday and Thursday, from 9 o'clock to 11 o'clock, the girls and their leaders participate in a "stay at home summer camp". Swimming parties, sight seeing trips in Lincoln and surrounding area, picnic lunches, camp fire building, and camp fire cookery, and arts and crafts are among the many activities planned for the summer.

Mrs. William Ramsey, director of the Havelock YWCA center, is in charge of the program; Mrs. Floyd Parker and James Parker are directors of camp fire building and cooking; and Mrs. Chester Rung is in charge of the arts and crafts. Any teen age girl who is interested should register at the YWCA center.

Honors Bride

An August bride-elect, Miss Helene Sherman who will marry Norman Krivosha in August, was honored at a luncheon on Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. M. Lotman, Mrs. Louis Lotman, and Mrs. Nathen Burnstein were hostesses.

Prenuptial Courtesies

A popular July bride-elect is Miss Frances Gittleman, whose marriage to Robert Brill takes place July 19. Last Wednesday, Miss Gittleman was honored at a luncheon at the Cornhusker Hotel. The hostesses for the affair were Mrs. M. Lotman, Mrs. Louis Lotman, Mrs. Henry Weisguart, Mrs. Nellie Van Dorn and Mrs. Morris Kushman. Following the luncheon, Miss Gittleman was presented with a miscellaneous shower by the 100 guests.

Then, last Thursday, Miss Gittleman was entertained at an evening supper at the home of Mrs. Ben Block. Hostesses included Mrs. Block, Mrs. Nathen Moser, Mrs. Charles Poska, Mrs. Earl Diamond, and Mrs. Henry Weisguart. Miss Gittleman was presented with a one gift shower at the close of the evening.

Mrs. Max Lashinsky honored Miss Gittleman at a luncheon on Wednesday at her home.

Former Coed Is Bride

MRS. GEORGE WELCH JR.

Spreading arrangements of white peonies, lilies and woodwardia appointed the chancel of the First Methodist Church at Shenandoah, Ia., Friday evening, June 17, for the marriage of Miss Charlotte Ann Dafoe, daughter of Mrs. Charles A. Dafoe of Shenandoah, formerly of Tecumseh, and George L. Welch Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Welch of Shenandoah. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. J. Roland Crandall and Mrs. Ermal McMichael, organist, played the wedding music.

Mrs. Willis H. Steinberg of Hyannis, as her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn McIntosh, Shenandoah, Miss Sue Kirkman and Miss Phyllis Sherman of Tecumseh, wore full-skirted frocks of blue silk shantung.

Serving as best man was Richard Hockmuth of Des Moines, and the ushers were Jarrett Cairns and Jim Howland of Shenandoah, Ernest Dippel Jr., Kansas City, Mo., Richard Wolfe, Donnellson, Ia., and Louis Beaty Jr of St. Joseph, Mo.

White silk shantung touched with Alencon lace was chosen by the bride for her wedding gown. Lace bordered the low rounded neckline of the molded bodice, which was designed with bracelet sleeves, and the lace was repeated in the trim of the wide skirt which was caught into unpressed pleats and ended in a chapel train. Her train-length veil of Belgian lace was draped in the mantilla mode, and she carried a cascade of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Welch will make their home at Iowa City, Ia. A former student at the University of Nebraska and the University of Iowa, the bride is a member of Pi Beta Phi. Mr. Welch also attended the University of Iowa and is a member of Phi Delta Theta and Nu Sigma Nu medical fraternity.

Weds Lincoln Man

MRS. DAVID LOUIS SNYDER

The marriage of Miss Mary Lewellyn Marchman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Marchman of Savannah, Ga., to David Louis Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. David F. Snyder of Lincoln, was solemnized at an 8 o'clock ceremony on Saturday evening, June 18, at Asbury Memorial Methodist Church in Savannah. The Rev. William D. Dibble, assisted by the Rev. Anthony Hearn, read the lines before a background of white gladioli, white carnations and candles arranged against a bank of greenery and magnolia.

Mrs. William Baku of New Bern, N. C., was the matron of honor and appeared in a frock of sea blue imported organdy over taffeta designed with a fitted bodice, and a bouffant skirt in the after-five length. Her flowers were feathered carnations on a fan of hand painted silk. Miss Kay Bitterman of Middletown, Pa., in blush pink, and Miss Jeanne Langston of Ft. Eustis, Va., in chartreuse, were the bridesmaids and their organdy-over-taffeta frocks were fashioned on identical lines to that worn by the matron of honor.

David F. Snyder served his son as best man, and the ushers were Arnold Phillips, La Grange, Ga.; Thomas A. Marchman, brother of the bride; Donald Bergman and Sam Elkins.

The bridal gown of white silk organza over taffeta was fashioned with a briefly-sleeved fitted bodice patterned with medallions of Swiss embroidered organdy applique. The applique motif was repeated on the extremely bouffant skirt which was completed with a chapel train. A small cap of embroidery held to the head her fingertip veil of embroidered illusion, and she carried an imported lace fan caught with feathered carnations and centered with purple throated white orchids.

The bride is a graduate of Duke University Hospital and has been a staff supervisor with the U. S. Public Health service. Mr. Snyder is a student at Georgia Tech, and is a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Had Early June Church Wedding

MR. AND MRS. EARL GARY SCHMIEDING

The marriage of Miss Ilah Mae Uecker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Uecker of Wagner, S. D., and Earl Gary Schmieding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Schmieding of Malcolm, took place Saturday afternoon, June 4, at St. John's Lutheran Church in Wagner. The Rev. Ronald Zehnder read the lines of the 4 o'clock service, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Don Piroutek, organist. Mrs. William Lintner, pianist, accompanied Glen Schmieding, the vocal soloist, preceding the ceremony.

Mrs. Gene Rehwaldt of Wagner was the matron of honor and wore a full-skirted ballerina frock of orchid-toned crystalette. The bridesmaids, Miss Lois Priess, Mrs. Charles Rhea and Mrs. Robert Pohlman, all of Lincoln, were costumed identically in green crystalette. Bandeaux of frock-tone net completed their ensembles, and they carried carnations in the orchid shade. Miss Linda Lee Rehwaldt, niece of the bride, was the flower girl, and lighting the candles were Miss Arlene Uecker and Miss Arlene Coin.

Serving as best man was Robert Pohlman of Lincoln, and the ushers were Alvin Uecker of Wagner, Larry Osterman and Dale Lange of Lincoln. Larry Jon Peters was the ringbearer.

The bride appeared in a gown of white satin and lace. The long-sleeved bodice was designed with a yoke of lace which also fashioned the high, rounded collar, and the lace was repeated in the trim of the wide skirt, which extended into a train. Her illusion veil was held by a cap of pearl-embroidered lace, and she carried a cascade arrangement of crimson roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Upon returning from a trip to Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Schmieding will reside in Lincoln.

Ike Says U.S. Always Willing To Extend 'Olive Branch' Of Peace

. . . 6-Day New England Tour Opens

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP) — President Eisenhower declared Wednesday America always will extend "the olive branch" of peace to all willing to accept it honestly—but always will remain strong too.

Opening a six-day tour of northern New England, the President told an applauding, police-estimated crowd of 25,000 persons at the Rutland Fairgrounds that in the search for enduring peace:

"We must be determined. We must not sacrifice principle for expediency."

His remarks took on special significance with the Big Four "at the summit" conference opening July 18 in Geneva, Switzerland.

Tornado Alert

Shortly after Eisenhower spoke, central Vermont underwent a 4½ hour "tornado alert," but the twister failed to materialize and the President held to his evening schedule of fishing and speechmaking.

The Rutland area experienced a small thunder squall with occasional wind gusts up to 69 miles an hour. The U. S. Weather Bureau at Boston called off the alert at 9:30 p.m.

It rained for about half an hour and then cleared in Chittenden where the President planned to spend the night at Mountain Top Inn. Observers said there were no signs of a tornado after it cleared. Chittenden is about 10 miles from Rutland.

World peace was the central theme of Eisenhower's informal address, but there was an air of politics at the fairgrounds too—Created by Republican Sen. George Aiken of Vermont.

Part Time

Aiken introduced the President and made a jovial—but unsuccessful—attempt to find out whether Eisenhower will seek a second term.

Alluding to the President's 189-acre farm at Gettysburg, Pa., Aiken talked of him with a broad smile as "a part time farmer."

Then, obviously with a second term for Eisenhower in mind, the senator added:

"It is my earnest hope that he will remain as a part time farmer for some time to come—say another five or six years."

Fishing Togs

Within an hour after leaving the fairgrounds the President had switched to fishing togs and was trying his luck with a trout fly rod in Furnace Brook near Rutland.

In his speech at Rutland the President said Americans everywhere "are the same in their longing for peace—a peace that is characterized by justice, by consideration for others, by decency, by insistence on respect for the individual human being as a child of his God."

Chinese Nationalists Claim Red Gunboat Hit

TAIPEH (INS) — Damaging of a Chinese Communist gunboat in a strafing attack by Nationalist planes was reported Wednesday by the Nationalist Air Force.

A Nationalist Air Force communique said:

"At 2 p.m., today a batch of our planes strafed and damaged a 60-ton Communist gunboat near the mouth of the Min River north of Fukien."

Texas Mayor Pledges Help To Prostitutes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Galveston's controversial Mayor George Roy Clough said Wednesday that prostitution—"decent prostitution"—is in his city to stay. He promised to build it a home—eventually.

Talking to a reporter while waiting to testify in the tax evasion trial of former Galveston Police Chief Fred M. Ford, Clough said he has "the greatest admiration" for "the lowest prostitute" when "compared to my contempt for city officials who accept her money for permission to operate."

"Nobody's paid me a dime—they can't bluff me out or pay me off. They gotta, and they will, learn to live with me," he declared.

Storm

The mayor took office last month amid a storm of charges that his administration was bringing filth and corruption.

"I don't know a single place in Galveston that a man could buy an illegal mixed drink. I don't know of a place that gambling is going on, and I've never been in a tavern in my life," he said.

The 65-year-old owner of one of Galveston's two radio stations said that as long as gambling, prostitution and liquor houses operate "in an orderly measure," he is going to "let them stay."

Clough said Galveston's prostitutes will someday have a "district, a home" all by themselves. The present red light district consists of about three square blocks, he said.

"What I want to do is get them (prostitutes) out of the rest of town and put them all together. They don't mind it."

Czechs Open U.S. Drive To Lure Refugees Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia has opened an advertising campaign in the United States to try to persuade Czechs who are refugees from communism to go home.

This is part of a determined drive by the whole Soviet bloc, U.S. officials said, to try to get refugees to return home where their skills and labor power will be available for agricultural and industrial production. At the same time authorities said it is also aimed at discouraging persons inside the Communist countries from fleeing.

The advertising campaign took the form of display ads in Washington, New York and other newspapers addressed to "Czechoslovak citizens."

State Department officials said that for months the Reds have been propagandizing refugees in camps in Germany to the same end. They said they thought the effect had been limited.

Liquor By Drink Petitions Filed

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — Petitions calling for a special election on sale of liquor by the drink in Fremont have been filed at the city clerk's office.

Bruce Peters, spokesman for sponsors of the petitions, said there were 2,253 signatures but that some of them may have been duplicates or those of unregistered voters.

A total of 858 names is needed to insure calling a special election.

Safest Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Last year was the safest on record for the pedestrian, the American Automobile Assn. announced.

It said statistics showed about 7,900 persons on foot were killed in motor vehicle accidents in 1954, as compared with 8,600 in 1953 and 15,500 during the peak year of 1937. The first year the AAA collected such statistics, 1927, the death toll was 10,800.

4 U.S. Newsmen Held 2 Hours

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP) — Police Wednesday arrested and held for two hours four U. S. correspondents who were taking pictures of San Ignacio Church which was burned after last week's revolt.

Arrested were Life magazine photographer Hank Walker and Time reporter Phillip Payne, both of Washington, D. C.; Jeff Sabin, TV photographer of NBC, of New York, and NBC Buenos Aires correspondent Bob Lindley.

Walker said he and Payne were shooting pictures of a group of Catholics placing flowers by the church's main door when two policemen and two sailors closed on them. He said they spent two hours at the precinct police station. He said they were courteously treated, and were served coffee.

GM Expands

DETROIT (AP) — Another half billion dollar program to expand its passenger car production capacity was announced by General Motors Corp. The newest project brings to two billion dollars the total General Motors expansion program announced by the corporation since January, 1954.

Anderson Is Appointed Platte Co. Treasurer

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP)—Glenn Anderson, Columbus, has been named Platte County treasurer by the Board of Supervisors.

190 Descendants

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — A claim for the most descendants from any one person on the area is made by Mrs. Lulu Mang of Scottsbluff. Mrs. Mang, 85, claims 190 descendants — nine sons and five daughters, 65 grandchildren, 110 great grandchildren and one great, great grandchild.

Strike Threatens

PARIS (AP) — France was threatened with an unlimited strike of civil servants beginning July 1. They are asking a raise of 4,000 francs ($11.42) a month. Their basic salary presently is 23,000 francs ($65.71). Any increase would have to be voted because of acid stomach at night?

Wake Up Tired?

Take 2 TUMS as a "Night-cap"

Laying Of First Telephone Cable Across Ocean Starts

CLARENVILLE, Nfld. (AP) —The laying of the world's first trans-oceanic telephone cable started Wednesday, It is to stretch from this rugged fishing village across the Atlantic's floor to Oban, Scotland.

The Clarenville end of the cable, which will span 2,250 statute miles, was christened with sea water from Hert's Content Bay, site of the first successful Atlantic telegraph cable landing near here in 1866.

The 8,050-ton British ship Monarch, spinning the cable slowly out of her huge tanks, will reach Oban by the end of the summer, completing the west-to-east underwater telephone system.

This will link New York directly with London and add 36 extra telephone circuits to the present overseas shortwave radio system of 14 circuits, all dependent on weather.

A second cable will be laid next summer from Scotland to Newfoundland to carry conversations from east to west. The over-all system, a 40-million-dollar joint undertaking by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., the British Post Office, which operates the telephones in Britain, and the Canadian Overseas Telecommunications Corp., is expected to be in service by late 1956.

Eighteen telegraph cables now span the Atlantic. The new telephone cable marks the most important advance in international communications since 1927, when the first transAtlantic telephonic service was established via radio. It will lie well north of the telegraph cables, but out of the iceberg zone.

Mann, Poling, Lehman, Williamson To Semifinals

Lincoln Star Special

BEATRICE — Former champion Mrs. Lucile Mann of Omaha Wednesday joined three young golfers in the semifinals of the Women's State Golf Tournament at Beatrice Country Club with a 5 and 4 victory over Mrs. Flossie Sack of York.

Mrs. Mann will play Phyllis Williamson of Lincoln today. Medalist Sara Lehman of Lincoln meets Jean Poling of the home club in the other semifinal match.

Mrs. Mann, the pre-tournament favorite, shot a 39 on the front nine and closed out the match on the 14th hole.

But Miss Lehman and Miss Poling, given the best chance to upset Mrs. Mann in pre-tournament forecasts, were hard pressed in Wednesday's play. Both won one-up matches.

Miss Lehman, the Lincoln city champion, had a one-up lead over Jean Mahoney going into the last hole and finished with a three-foot putt for a par.

Miss Poling came from behind to win her quarterfinal match from Shirley Quinn on a playoff hole. Miss Poling was one down after and won in the extra hole with a par as Miss Quinn missed a two-and-one-half foot putt.

Phyllis Williamson, the other semifinalist, defeated Omahan Mrs. Maxine Sloan 5 and 3.

Beatrice was assured of a champion in the nine-hole flight Wednesday when Virginia Price defeated Lincoln's Sally Wilson, 3 and 2, and Janett Eyth won by default.

Both finalists are home - course players.

The junior finals will be an all-Omaha affair as Charon Allen and Ann Davis won semifinal matches Wednesday.

Giving Them Fitz

By Bill Fitzgerald

Is He Eating Steaks?

The guy who said he was a big admirer of Bobo Olson was puzzled.

"Why is it?" he wanted to know.

"Here is a piece of nothing like Cockell going against a rough guy like Marciano who you know will wreck him before the big Englishman can get back to the dressing room. So I personally couldn't figure a go like that one to drive any sports writer to composing stories about how Cockell could move well for a big guy and how he was quite quick with his fists and how he was one guy from across the water who would stay in there and do some fighting.

"But those big names in the newspaper game certainly came out and did their best to make the approaching fight between those two guys a big thing.

"It was routine for them. They do it all the time. What is it with those guys? Do they get paid for it? From the promoters, I mean?"

And the soliloquy continued like this:

"But then Olson, a really good fighter, comes up to try another capable man like Moore and those clowns do the reverse story.

"They say: 'Yes, it is true that Olson is tough against middleweights and against tappers like Maxim, but against Moore he has attempted the near-impossible. Olson will get beat up and will be knocked out. You know that adage, proved and proved, that the good little man can't beat the good big man.'

"Why don't they drop dead. Archie Moore is real good and maybe he will stop Olson, but maybe Olson wil take him out of there first.

"Did you see Moore against Harold Johnson? That Johnson is well-built but he's a rotten fighter. He looks good but he won't get in there and fight. But he was ahead of Moore and had him down before he got knocked ou .

"Yes, I know. He got knocked out But he was in there at even or better against Moore, and Johnson is about from here to San Francisco in comparison to Olson.

"And do you remember how Joe Maxim stayed on his feet against Moore? He suffered more against Olson in 10 rounds than he did in three fights against Moore.

"And there is one fight I'll never forget when I consider how off those writers are. It was the Bob Murphy challenge of Maxim for the light heavy title when Maxim was still champ. Remember?

"Murphy had cooled a lot of guys with that roundhouse left hand and the odds were something like 3-1 that he'd win the fight. The sports writers went on him like an old lady on an icy sidewalk. He couldn't miss against a guy like Maxim who couldn't hit. That's how they put it.

"Well, Murphy landed a hard left in the first round. The next time he landed was about an hour later when he landed on the dressing room table. Maxim won every round except the first and the odds-makers and the sports writers looked real bad.

"So now I'm reading that Moore will be 9-5 or 2-1 against Olson. It really breaks me up.

"I appreciate these writers. They help guys like me get long odds on good fighters. I'll have something on Olson and I figure I'll eat steaks for a month straight."

Kirkland's Bat Beats Chiefs 12-3

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Mighty Willie Kirkland pole-axed three home runs out of Sherman Field Wednesday night to help the Sioux City Soos put the Lincoln Chiefs to unorganized rout, 12-3.

The shocker dropped the third-place Chiefs five games back of league-leading Wichita, a mere half game ahead of the Pueblo Dodgers.

Tonight Burwell will call on the Chiefs' No. 1 hurler Dick Hall to face the last-place Soos. Hall, who's won seven and lost but three—he has the best ERA in the loop—will be opposed by Jim Graves (0-3) of the Soos.

It will be Ladies Night.

Bill Burwell called on three pitchers during the unhappy evening and only Starter Dick Drilling escaped Willie's charmed bat.

Lincoln took a 2-1 lead in the first on Frank Rice's 11th homer with Ted Adkins on base, but the Soos picked up a pair in the second to go ahead to stay and turned the contest into batting practice.

Sioux City registered 16 hits off the combined deliveries of Drilling, who lasted one and a third innings, Jackie Brown, good for one and two-thirds frames, and Paul Almonte, who went the last six innings of the futile battle.

Lincoln might have added another in the first, but the old hex was still dogging Bobby Reynolds.

Bob opened the game with a clean double over first base. At least it would have been a double if he had touched first. But he missed the bag and was tossed out.

And in running from first to second, the original hard-luck kid pulled a muscle in his left leg and will be sidelined for a while. It was the umpteenth time Reynolds has been struck by the injury jinx during his athletic career.

Getting back to the actual scoring, Kirkland's first blow came at the expense of Brown and sailed high and far over the rightfield wall to open the third.

Four hits and a pair of walks gave the Soos three in the fourth and ended Brown's stay. Almonte came in with none out and the bases loaded and got the next three men on a pop-up, a strikeout and a long fly.

In the fifth Sioux City went down in order, but Kirkland came up in the sixth with one out and did a repeat performance.

Willie appeared on the scene again in the eighth, but changed the script. His third homer cleared the centerfield wall by a good margin.

The third Chiefs' tally came in the eighth—the score was 11-2 at the time—when Ted Akins singled, took second on an error, moved to third on a fielder's choice and scored on Earl Smith's sacrifice fly.

Burwell, Bell Fined $5 Each

Lincoln Manager Bill Burwell and Pitcher Bill Bell have been fined $5 each by the Western League office for being ejected from a game with Pueblo there on June 15, it was announced Wednesday.

It was the second fine for Burwell this season. He had been fined $5 for protesting a strike call at Des Moines during the first week of the season.

Frank Bernardi Will Join Bruins

DES MOINES (AP) — Frank Bernardi, University of Colorado athlete, will join the Des Moines Bruins of the Western League Wednesday night at Colorado Springs.

Bernardi is an outfielder. He was a halfback on the Colorado football squad for three years. He will leave the Des Moines club in late July to join the Chicago Cardinals when they open football practice.

Loop Gets New Mann

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Western League baseball fans will be just a little perplexed as to who is who with the signing of Nick Mann to work with Milt Mann. So when the announcer gives the umps from now on it will be Mann and Mann.

Nick hails from Jersey City and has been signed to replace Emil Lombardi who is no longer with the Western League. Ralph Winegarner, Western League secretary, made the announcement Tuesday night.

Olson Knocked Out In Third By Moore's Murderous Right

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Archie Moore gambled a million dollar future and won Wednesday night, destroying middleweight champion Bobo Olson on a knockout in 1:19 of the third round to move into line for a September heavyweight title shot with Rocky Marciano.

The fact that Archie, the 38-year-old ring gypsy, was making the fourth defense of his world light heavyweight title was almost incidental. For Moore had campaigned long and hard for a chance at the heavyweight title and had taken on Olson only to further this ambition.

A murderous right hand punch to the head following a miss by Olson started Bobo on his way out. A smashing left hook to the jaw dropped the baldish Hawaiian on the deck for the first and last knockdown of the fight.

As Referee Ruby Goldstein tolled off the count, Olson tried vainly to get to his feet. At the count of 10 he was creeping across the ring, toward his own corner with a queer expression on his sad face, unable to make his legs obey his commands.

Once he groped to his feet, Olson refused to believe the bout was over. He wanted to continue and started to try to square off with Archie as Goldstein intervened.

The end came with a quick explosion on this steaming humid night for Olson had been giving Archie all he wanted until the old boy lowered the boom.

It was only the second time Olson had been knocked out in his 70-bout career and was his first defeat after 21 straight victories. Sugar Ray Robinson, who tried unsuccessfully to make the same jump from the middles to the light heavies on another jungle hot night in 1952 owned the only previous KO over Olson. It was scored in 1950.

The odds of 12 to 5 and better favoring Moore reflected the expert belief that he could pare down from the 196½ he weighed May 2 at Las Vegas and still be strong at the 175-pound class limit.

Archie just made the weight at noon, coming in at 175 "on the nose." Olson weighed in a trifle heavy at 170¼.

If Olson had won, he would have vacated his 160-pound middleweight crown automatically under New York and National Boxing Assn. rules. Moore's powerful fists saved him that problem.

Days and possibly weeks of negotiation with Al Weill, Rocky Marciano's manager, probably will intervene before the Moore-Marciano match is arranged for September.

But after Wednesday night's decisive victory, it is difficult to see how the ancient globetrotter can be by-passed.

It was the old ring story of the "good bigman beating the good little man" just as it was the torrid night in '52 when Ray Robinson collapsed from the heat and Joe Maxim's fists.

By an odd coincidence, the referee on this hot night was the same Ruby Goldstein who collapsed during the Robinson-Maxim bout and had to be relieved by Ray Miller.

When announcer Johnny Addie sang the National Anthem to cover up for the public address system failure, Archie sang right along with him. Olson glared quietly from his corner.

An Olson jab was the first punch of the short fight. He took charge of the first two minutes of the round, punching and then backing off as Archie missed. The crowd oohed when Olson dropped in a slapping right to the head but it had no effect.

Moore had begun to move in the last minute of that first round, in the final seconds his famous sneak right shook-up Olson.

Says Moore:

'Any Man I Can Hit, I Can Lick, Including Marciano'

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Archie Moore, his white teeth flashing, sent out a challenge to heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano Wednesday night with the warning:

"Any man I can hit, I can lick—and there's not a man I can't hit. That goes for Marciano."

Sweating profusely under the glare of spotlights after his third round knockout of middleweight champion Bobo Olson, the ambitious 38-year-old light heavyweight champion from San Diego, Calif., parried questions with the same deftness he had parried Olson's punches in the sweltering Polo Grounds ring.

Famous Punch

In another corner Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, said he felt sure a Moore-Marciano fight could be arranged for September and predicted it would draw three quarters of a million dollars.

It was Moore, however, who held the audience.

"I hit him with a double right hand," the dusky warrior explained.

"It is a punch I am famous for, you know. Then when he tried to get out of the way, I let him have it with a left hook.

"The hook caught him right here," he gestured with his bandaged hand.

Moore said he was surprised that the fight ended so quickly.

Olson Brought Downfall

But he added that Olson brought on his own quick demise by pulling unexpected tactics.

"I knew he was a smart man," he said. "I expected him to come out and fight me. Instead, he started running. I knew I would have to get him and get him quick or he might surprise me."

Moore, accompanied by movie screen star Bert Lancaster, had to push his way through a swarm of fans to reach his dressing quarters. There he was greeted by the dapper Norris.

"This is a fight we want," Norris said of the proposed Moore-Marciano battle. "I plan to talk to Al Weill, Marciano's manager Thursday or the next day. I feel certain the bout can be arranged."

The date most talked about is Sept. 22, probably outdoors.

"It's a Natural"

Charlie Johnston, fiery little manager of the light heavyweight champion, bustled all over the place, chortling that he has the future heavyweight champion of the world.

"Moore can beat Marciano," he said, "and three quarters of a million dollars, that's chicken feed. The fight will draw more than a million. It's a natural."

"He fought better than I expected," he said. "He was much faster and he hit me pretty hard in that second round. He didn't hurt me much, but he showed he was tough."

Olson Rushed To Hotel Room

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobo Olson, a dazed and disappointed fighter, was rushed from the Polo Grounds to his hotel Wednesday night without being allowed to say a word as to how and why he was knocked out by Archie Moore in the third round of their light heavyweight championship fight.

Olson appeared pale and a little unsteady as he rushed from the New York Giants' dressing room with police to the right and the left of him. This was 35 minutes after the knockout.

Before he departed, Sid Flaherty, Olson's dignified manager, had a few trenchant words to say:

"Business Risk"

"This is one of the risks of the business. Moore could clip a heavyweight if he wanted to do it.

"I don't know what's next for Bobo—I really haven't had time to think."

"It was a dangerous fight but it proved a point."

Flaherty didn't expand on this, but it seemed pretty obvious it meant that Bobo was going to go back to the middleweights, where he is undisputed champion of the world, and not aim at the light heavyweights, let alone the towering pinnacle occupied by Rocky Marciano. Before the fight both Flaherty and Olson talked confidently of Marciano.

"Bobo can't fight a man who can punch like this and who outweighs him, too," said Flaherty.

"If he could have stayed with him, I think maybe he might have outboxed him."

Rampaging Red Sox Win 12-7 For 13th Out Of 15

BOSTON (AP)—Boston's rampaging Red Sox cashed in on home runs by Norm Zauchin, Jim Piersall and Sammy White and three important doubles by Ted Williams to defeat Detroit 12-7 Wednesday and move within one game of the fourth place Tigers.

The victory was the 13th in the last 15 games for Boston and put them over .500 in the American League standings with a 33-32 record.

Sox starter Tom Brewer and reliefer Leo Kiely were nailed for 15 hits including two home runs by Al Kaline and one by Ray Boone.

Williams' timely doubles drove in two runs and put Ted in position to score two more as he raised his batting average to .378.

Zauchin's homer accounted for three runs while Piersall's and White's came with the bases empty.

Williams sliced a double to left to drive in the first of six big runs for the Sox in the opening inning. Zauchn's 12th homer into the left-field nets made it 4-0.

Wynn Coasts To Ninth Win

BALTIMORE (AP)—Early Wynn coasted to his ninth victory behind a 15-hit Cleveland barrage Wednesday night to shut out the cellar-dwelling Baltimore Orioles 5-0 on six hits.

Working effortlessly, Wynn set down the weak-hitting Birds, fanning 10 men and walking nobody. It was Baltimore's sixth shutout in its last nine starts.

Al Smith, fleet third baseman, led the Tribal onslaught against four Oriole pitchers with four hits in five trips. Smith also stole two bases.

Yanks Trip A's By 6-1

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra, the New York Yankees' one-two punch, drove in four runs between them as the American League leaders coasted to a 6-1 victory over Kansas City behind the nine-hit pitching for Whitey Ford Wednesday.

Mantle got the Yankees off to an early 2-0 lead, smashing his 18th-home run of the season in the third inning following a walk to Gil McDougald. Berra drove in two mates with a bases-loaded single in the seventh when the Yanks rose up with a four-run outburst that shelled starter Art Ditmar and reliefer Lou Sleater from the mound.

Chisox Score 3-0 Over Nats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dick Donovan posted his fourth shutout and his ninth victory of the season for the Chicago White Sox 3-0 Wednesday night as he held Washington to four hits. It was Donovan's fourth win over the Senators, who have lost 12 of their last 13 games.

Donovan permitted only one runner to advance beyond first base, when Carlos Paula tripled with two out in the eighth inning.

Nelson Fox's 17-game hitting streak expired when the White Sox second baseman went hitless in five tries.

Last Inning Home Runs Give Giants 4-3 Edge

CINCINNATI (AP)—Hank Thompson and Bobby Hoffman homered in the ninth inning Wednesday night to break the longest losing streak for the New York Giants since August 1953 and lifted the New Yorkers to a 4-3 triumph over the Cincinnati Redlegs. The Giants had lost six in a row.

Sal Maglie, ace righthander, pitched his eighth victory in a row. He gave up 10 hits, including Ray Jablonski's ninth inning round-tripper. He struck out losing pitcher Gerry Staley three times and also got third baseman Bobby Adams to fan in three at bats.

Phillies Beat St. Louis 9-6

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Philadelphia ace Robin Roberts survived a spell of being his own worst enemy with home-run pitches in the early innings Wednesday night and gained his 10th victory as the Phils defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 9-6. There were four Cardinal homers blasted off the big righthander.

The Phils had a 14-hit attack, and Roberts was prominent in it. The game was a 5-5 tie after Stan Lopata homered in the sixth for the Phils, and Roberts began a tie-breaking, three-run rally by leading off the seventh inning with a double.

A single by Richie Ashburn, an intentional walk to Granny Hamner and singles by Del Ennis and Lopata figured in the seventh-inning rally by the Phils.

Spahn, Braves Beat Bucs 6-0

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Warren Spahn pitched and batted the Milwaukee Braves to their sixth straight victory Wednesday night as he shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0 on six hits.

Spahn, who allowed the Pirates only six singles, came up with his first home run of the season in the sixth. It was good for two runs, Del Crandall scoring in front of him. Spahn was credited with another run driven-in in the three-run Milwaukee eighth.

Green Blasts Anderson 14-4, Lawlor's Defeats Globe 7-1

RESULTS WEDNESDAY
Green 14, Anderson 4.
Lawlor's 7, Globe 1.

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

Green Loan Co. blasted Anderson, 14-4, and Lawlor's clipped Globe 7-1 Wednesday night in Elks League games that inaugurated the new lighted diamond in Antelope Park.

Twice the Greens put together big innings after two were out to beat Anderson. Lawlor's backed Ron Bayless's tight pitching with timely sticking to beat Globe.

After Anderson took a 3-0 lead in the first on hits by Bob Benton, Bill Fry and Gene Dittenber plus a balk by Green pitcher Ken Grosenbach, the Greens came from behind.

Grosenbach sliced a two-out, bases-loaded triple down the right-field line in the second inning to start the comeback. In the third inning, Greens went ahead 5-3. In the fifth, Coach Lyle Buell's team sent 12 men to the plate to score seven runs after two were out. The big blows were doubles by Ted Dewey, Darrell Seng and Larry Bryant.

In the nightcap, converted catcher Ron Bayless fanned nine and scattered six hits to hand Globe its second defeat.

Lawlor's scored in the first when Eldon Hatcliff singled after Packy Young's double to right field. A slick Phil Miller-Gary Smith-Phil Miller-Brad Warner double play ended the threat.

Lawlor's got the winning run in the second on a walk, Eldon Champoux's single, a walk and an infield out.

Brooks Win Over Cubs By 3-2 On Unearned Run

CHICAGO (AP) — First-place Brooklyn nudged across an unearned run in the eighth for a 3-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs Wednesday to increase their margin over the second-spot Bruins to 13 games.

Rube Walker homered with none aboard for Brooklyn in the fifth.

Dodger pitcher Russ Meyer, who has a 22-3 lifetime record against the Cubs, had to quit because of a stiff neck in the sixth and the victory went to the third Brooklyn pitcher, Ed Roebuck.

Hal Jeffcoat blew his chance for a relief victory with a bad throw which helped Brooklyn to an unearned decisive run in the eighth. Jeffcoat had succeeded starter Bob Rush to start the eighth.

The tainted Dodger run came after Pee Wee Reese led off the eighth with a single. Duke Snider's attempted sacrifice wound up in a bad peg by Jeffcoat, sending Reese to third. Gil Hodges forced Snider, but Reese scored the big run.

When Ernie Banks slammed his third single in the eighth, Roebuck replaced Jim Hughes and finished for the Dodgers.

Walker caught for the Dodgers as hot-hitting Roy Campanella, who had started all except two games and appeared in every game, was benched by a bruised left kneecap.

Walker's first homer of the season, over the right-field stands, made it 2-1 for the Dodgers, but the Cubs came back with their second run in the seventh on Dee Fondy's double and Jim King's pinch single.

When Meyer was forced out of the game after yielding his third and fourth hits in the sixth, he was replaced by Hughes.

'Cute Babies' Can Be Rough

The Nebraska Game Commission is concerned with the public's efforts to give aid to 'apparently' orphaned wildlife.

Each spring numerous incidents occur in which people try to help wildlife by taking care of all sorts of young they happen to find.

According to a Game Commission spokesman, "Besides the strict legal aspect of people trying to raise baby game animals and birds, our concern is also for the safety of the people. Many of our "cute" game babies become quite dangerous as they grow up. After all, they are basically wild animals."

"Many of the young found apparently abandoned are not abandoned. If people would leave them alone, the majority of them will be re-united with their mothers."

16 Days Are Left For Game Permits

Nebraska big game hunters have only 16 days left in which to return applications for 1955 permits. A Game Commission spokesman said Wednesday, "big game hunters absolutely must have their applications in the mail before midnight July 9 for consideration for a permit."

A total of 6,250 deer-rifle permits will be issued in the open season areas. For antelope-rifle season, 1,000 permits are being allowed. There will be a drawing to determine permittees if more applications than the alloted permits are received.

Application forms can be obtained from County Clerks, local Conservation Officers and by mail from the Game Commission offices in Lincoln, Bassett, Alliance, North Platte and Norfolk.

T-Shirt Tickets

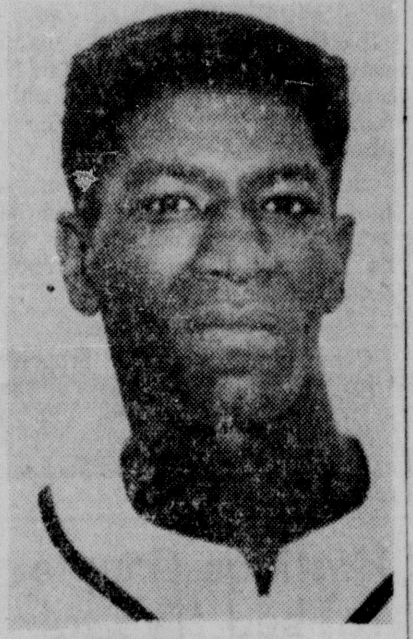
T-Shirts have become legal tender at Sherman Field for all children under 12.

The Lincoln Chiefs, in a special promotion for youngsters, have arranged with a local department store to handle Chiefs' T-Shirts.

Any child under 12, when accompanied by an adult, and wearing the shirt will be admitted free to all home games for the remainder of the season.

Chiefs Option Benny Daniels To Billings; Witt Joins Club



BENNY DANIELS

Pitcher Benny Daniels Wednesday was optioned to Billings, Mont., (Class C Pioneer League) by the Lincoln Chiefs, General Manager Dick Wagner announced.

The big Negro righthander was sent out in order to make room for George Witt, recently purchased from Hollywood.

Daniels had a 4-4 record with the Chiefs, failing to win a game since May 19 when he shut out Pueblo, 4-0, on a three hitter at Sherman Field, while losing three times.

In 83 innings Daniels allowed 75 hits, struck out 49 and walked 50.

The loss of Daniels leaves the Chiefs with seven hurlers, Dick Hall, Dick Drilling, Bill Bell, Paul Almonte, Jackie Brown, Bill Nordberg and Witt.

NU's Ag Dean Lambert Accepts Bid To Make Trip To Russia

Dr. W. V. Lambert, dean of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture said he "welcomes the opportunity to get into Russia and observe agriculture conditions."

Dr. Lambert

Considered one of the nation's top research men in education, Dr. Lambert was notified Wednesday of his selection as one of a group of 12 Americans to visit Russia this summer.

The selection was made by an unofficial committee advising the Department of Agriculture and State Department.

Lambert said his selection came as a complete surprise to him. He was notified in Grand Island while attending a Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee meeeting.

He said it was his understanding that the trip would be taken between July 15 and August 15, but he had not been advised about details of the trip.

Research, Education

Commenting on the proposed trip, he said that Russia's "research, both fundamental and applied, and their agricultural education will be of prime importance to me."

Last fall, Lambert traveled to Turkey where he conferred with that country's government on the establishment of a new university.

In 1952 and 1953, he visited Iraq to advise on the organization of agriculture research facilities, under the auspices of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

In 1949, he traveled to the British colonies in Africa to advise on the development of research facilities.

Lambert was a member of the U. S. delegate to the Food and Agriculture Organization meeting of the United Nations at Copenhagen in 1946 and again at the Geneva conference in 1947.

Before assuming the position as Dean of the Agriculture College, he was administrator of the Agriculture Research Administration of the U. S. Department in Washington, D. C.

A native Nebraskan, Dr. Lambert received his bachelor's degree in 1921 from the University of Nebraska and later served as assistant county agent in Seward County.

The Kremlin has enthusiastically endorsed the idea of the trip which followed an editorial in the Des Moines Register and Tribune suggesting that Russian farmers should get a first hand look at Iowa's method of simultaneously raising corn and hogs.

The Associated Press reported another of the Americans elected for the trip was Loren K. Soth, editor of the Des Moines paper's editorial page.

In addition to Dean Lambert and Soth, the Agriculture Department said selected for the trip were:

David Gale Johnson, Vinton, Ia., farmer; John Marion Steddon, Polk City, Ia., farmer; Ralph A. Olsen, Ellisworth, Ia., farmer; Charles J. Hurst, Cedar Falls, Ia., farmer; Herbert W. Pike, Whiting, Ia., farmer; Asa B. Clark, Pullman, Wash., farmer; Ferris S. Owen, Newark, O., farmer; John M. Jacobs, Phoenix, Ariz., farmer and J. M. Kleiner, Nampa, Idaho, packer and distributer of agricultural products.

Wild Frontier Lure Is Great

The lure of the wild frontier was too much for seven-year-old Bobby Smith of 2212 No. 30th Wednesday morning.

His mother, Mrs. Leslie Smith, reported him missing to police. The police immediately began the search.

Bobby and a boyhood chum were located downtown.

Both were on their way, they said, to see a movie, "Davy Crockett."

Both were returned home. The show hadn't opened yet.

Lobbyist Expenses

Arthur J. Lamborn Sr. told the secretary of state's office Wednesday that he spent $11.40 during May as a lobbyist for the Nebraska Osteopathic Assn.

G.I. Finalist In City Contest

Lincoln Star Special

GRAND ISLAND, Neb.—Grand Island has been selected as one of 22 finalists in the All American City contest of 1955.

The 22 were selected by a screening committee from 137 nominees in the annual contest sponsored by the National Municipal League and a national magazine.

Grand Island's presentation was made on the basis of a large bond drive conducted two years ago for new schools. Also considered was its present form of city manager type of government.

Other accomplishments listed included construction of Fonner Park, several new churches, a new YMCA and a fund drive for a new Lutheran Hospital.

Walter P. Lauritsen, president of the Grand Island Chamber of Commerce, will act as the city's spokesman for the final competition to be held in Seattle, Wash., Monday, July 25, at the National Conference on Government.

At this meeting finalists will be narrowed to 11 and awards made.

Court Asked To Overrule School Decision

The State Supreme Court Wednesday was asked to overrule the decision of District Judge Fay H. Pollock, Stanton, holding the school district dissolution statute to be unconstitutional.

Pollock held in a Cuming County case that the law permitting the state superintendent of public instruction to dissolve a school district is an unconstitutional delegation of power by the Legislature.

The appeal brief filed by Cuming County Attorney Robert D. Moodie argued that the law gave the superintendent merely administrative discretion, not judicial power.

The suit was brought by George E. Shutte after Freeman Decker, then state superintendent, dissolved District 12 in Cuming County on Aug. 16, 1954. The action was taken by Decker on the grounds that the district had been inactive for the past 15 years.

Shutte, a resident of District 12, maintained the action deprived him of property without due process of law since his property tax was substantially increased by the change that placed his property in District 55.

In declaring the dissolution statute unconstitutional, Judge Pollock issued an injunction preventing county officials from dissolving District 12. The county appealed.

Although the case first was considered of greatest significance in the school redistricting situation, two developments have diminished its importance.

Amendment Made

1. The 1955 session of the Legislature amended the dissolution statute to provide for a hearing. The new law will go into effect Sept. 18.

2. The one-man office of state superintendent has been replaced by a five member Board of Education. Decker has been appointed state commissioner of education by the board.

Consequently, the Supreme Court's decision in the Cuming County case will be based upon delegation of power to a now defunct office and a law that has been changed.

Seven similar cases are pending throughout the state. A decision on the Cuming County case will not be handed down by the High Court before autumn at the earliest because of the summer recess.

Decker is named as defendant in some of the cases, county officials in others. Moodie's brief Wednesday suggested that Decker should have been made a party in the Cuming County case.

Hastings Couple Tabbed 'Typical Visitors' In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — A Nebraska couple stepped off a train at Grand Central Terminal to find themselves tabbed as the city's "typical" visitors at the opening of New York's Summer Festival.

Frank H. White and his wife, Charlotte, of Hastings, Neb., were guided across the street from the station to take part in ceremonies opening the city's new convention and visitors bureau and information center.

They received a $50 gift certificate and tickets for a boat trip around Manhattan Island. White is a Hastings Library custodian and his wife is a secretary.

Fracas May Result In Loss Of Man's Eye

A 36-year-old Minnesota man was hospitalized Wednesday with a serious eye injury received during a fracas at Steve's Steak House in West Lincoln.

The man was identified as Henry E. Rheaume of St. Peter, Minn., and Lincoln. He has been living in a trailer at 137 West O here.

A Veterans Hospital spokesman described Rheaume's condition as satisfactory, but said the eye injury is serious and could result in loss of the eye.

Bottle Shattered

Dep. Sheriff Frank Jacox, who is investigating the Tuesday night incident, said witnesses stated that Rheaume and a companion had an argument which resulted in some scuffling and the throwing of a bottle, which shattered near other persons.

When asked to leave the steak house by its owner, Steve Gorka, Rheaume turned on Gorka, according to some witnesses, and was injured during an altercation.

Jacox said the investigation, which wa requeted by the county attorney' office, has not been completed.

Olson Bids Low On LAFB Project

OMAHA (AP) — Olson Construction Co. of Lincoln Wednesday was the apparent low bidder on construction of a gymnasium, Officers club and NCO club at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

The Olson firm's bid on the complete project was $796,234.45 compared with an engineers' estimate of $796,849.75.

Assenmacher Construction Co. of Lincoln was second low among five bidders on the full project with a bid of $803,711.58.

Separate bids were also taken on portions of the project.

Slows Toaster

PASADENA (INS) — A visitor attending the American Association for the Advancement of Science meeting in Pasadena must be pondering the effects of an atom-smasher upon a Tuna fish sandwich.

The visitor wondered why it was taking so long to prepare a Tuna fish sandwich he ordered at the California Institute of Technology campus shop.

Mrs. Florence Lyall, manager of the shop, explained:

"That darned atom-smasher here saps all the electricity and slows down the electric toaster."

House Unit Okays $3 Billion Foreign Aid Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee Wednesday approved a $3,285,800,000 foreign aid budget for next fiscal year after slicing $139,200,000 from the amount authorized by the Senate.

The vote was 20-4.

Chairman Richards (D-SC) said attempts to curtail aid to Yugoslavia and India were defeated by close votes. Except for the cuts, he added, the bill was approved in substantially the form requested by President Eisenhower and approved by the Senate.

The measure, which probably will reach the House floor next week, merely authorizes funds for the year beginning July 1. Actual appropriations must be approved separately.

Friendly Nations

The President had requested about 3½ billion dollars in economic and military assistance for friendly nations.

In its main cut, the committee slashed 145 million dollars from military aid. That reduced the total for weapons for global allies to $1,133,000,000.

Richards said this was a general reduction, without pinpointing areas. Arms aid is now largely earmarked for Asia but the country-by-country breakdown is secret.

Dismissals

On one controversial point the committee approved a Senate provision that Civil Service regulations be observed in any dismissal from the Foreign Operations Administration. The Eisenhower administration had sought authority to fire anyone earning over $5,000 annually when FOA disbands June 30 and its functions are transferred to a new agency within the State Department.

At the administration's request the committee cut the total of surplus agricultural products to be sold abroad from 300 to 250 million dollars. It also eliminated a provision requiring that half the surplus food distributed abroad as aid be carried on American ships. Richards said this proviso had prevented shipments from moving rapidly enough.

City's Bus Service Explored At Committee's First Session

Ways of improving Lincoln's bus service were explored at the initial meeting of the city's Bus Service Committee.

The Committee met with representatives of Lincoln City Lines and Mayor Clark Jeary. Favor was expressed by both the committee and the bus company with a suggested survey among employees of large organizations.

Purpose of the survey would be to determine what times of departure and arrival from town would suit the most number of people and what changes in routes would better serve the public.

Joseph Schleckman, manager of Lincoln City Lines, stated that additional service is wanted in some areas but that many problems present themselves in such cases. It is sometimes imposible to extend service, he said, without adding another new bus or cutting off service elsewhere.

In some cases, he said, proposed routes are not capable of carrying a bus due to narrow widths or dirt surfaces.

The Service Committee was appointed several weeks ago by the City Council to work with the company on changes in the time schedule and routing.

The Committee was told by D. S. Peck, City Lines regional manager, that additional buses would certainly be placed in operation where it could be proven they would pay their way.

Service has never been cut, he reminded, before patronage has fallen off. It is not logical to assume, therefore, that increased service would mean more passengers in all cases since passengers were lost when better service was provided, he said.

Chester Marshall Dies; Arlington Nursery Founder

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — Funeral services will be Thursday at 2 p.m. at the First Congregational Church for Chester C. Marshall, 93, one of the founders of the Marshall Nurseries at Arlington.

A past president of the nursery, Marshall had been retired the past 28 years and lived in Fremont. He had been associated with the nursery business since 1887.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Gail Johnson, Miss Leta Marshall and Mrs. Eva Ludwig, all of Fremont; two sisters, Mrs. Dora Whitford and Mrs. Lucy Whitford, both of Lincoln, six grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

U.S. To Witness Molotov Interview

NEW YORK (AP) — An interview with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov will be carried twice—Saturday and Sunday—on both the CBS television and CBS radio networks.

CBS said the Molotov appearance on its "Face The Nation" program, originating in San Francisco, will be a special event on CBS television and radio Saturday at 4:30 p.m. CST.

The half-hour program will be carried again at its regularly scheduled times on Sunday, at 2:30 p.m. CST on television and at 8:05 p.m. CST on radio.

Bathtub Burns Fatal

DES MOINES (AP) — Elaine Elizabeth Bowen, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris H. Bowen who live just south of Des Moines, died Wednesday of burns suffered when the hot water tap in the Bowen bathtub was turned on accidentally while she was playing with neighbor children in the bathroom.

Wesleyan Student Will Participate In Quaker Project

Lincoln Star Special

STROMSBURG, Neb.— Dorothy Sharp, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. V. Sharp, will spend the summer in Philadelphia, Pa., where she will be working in industry, attending a seminar on labor, and doing settlement work.

This project is sponsored by the Quaker churches, and 20 students from all over the country participate. Week-ends will be spent visiting historical points of interest.

Miss Sharp is a political science major at Nebraska Wesleyan University, where she is a member of Delta Zeta sorority.

Workers Protest

ST. NAZAIRE, France (AP)—Disgruntled workers pressing demands for higher wages forced the gates at France's biggest shipyard and fought with helmeted security troops.

Tear gas was used to break up embattled workers from their barricade behind an overturned railway car. The workers had armed themselves with steel bars, bolts and paving blocks.

Dr. Salk Critic Recommends Manufacture Of Vaccine Be Halted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Albert B. Sabin, a long time critic of the Salk polio vaccine, recommended Wednesday that its manufacture be halted and a new vaccine developed with a "less virulent" strain of the disease. Other doctors disagreed.

Sabin, a University of Cincinnati researcher, made his recommendations in testifying at a symposium on the vaccine conducted by a House Commerce subcommittee. Chairman Priest (D-Tenn) had called in 15 medical experts with the hope of creating "renewed confidence" in the mass vaccination program now under way.

Two other doctors present took issue with Sabin, who is working on his own formula for an anti-polio vaccine. They were Dr. Thomas M. Rivers of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York, and Dr. Joseph E. Smadel of the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital here.

Rivers said that what Sabin was suggesting was "That we stop making a safe vaccine and make a safer one."

Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele told another congressional group last week that the Salk vaccine is "a potent material as safe as we know how to make it."

No Way

But Sabin, who is working with the Children's Hospital Research Foundation in Cincinnati, contended there is no way to be sure the vaccine now used can be made "regularly safe."

Dr. Jonas E. Salk of the University of Pittsburgh, developer of the controversial vaccine, took no part in the argument except to warn against "losing sight of the forest for the trees."

"I prefer to remain in the role of an investigator providing the facts," Salk told the subcommittee. Speaking to newsmen later, however, Salk expressed confidence in the current inoculation program.

DR. SABIN . . . asks less dangerous preparation.

No answers had been provided to a series of questions put by Rep. Wolverton (R-NJ) when the hearing recessed until Thursday. Wolverton wanted to know what most of the doctors thought about Sabin's proposal.

Mahoney

So far about six million school children in the first and second grades have been inoculated with the Salk vaccine.

The two items that played the biggest part in the controversy were referred to as "The Mahoney virus" and "The Cutter incident."

Sabin said it is the Mahoney virus that caused him to fear for the safety of the program. This is one of several strains of polio virus. A strain is a group of organisms having a common lineage and differing in some respects from another group.

Sabin recommended that manufacture of polio vaccine and all inoculations be halted to permit researchers to develop a vaccine which used "less virulent polio strains than the Mahoney virus."

Sabin said the Mahoney virus, sometimes called Type One, accounts for 80 per cent of all cases of paralytic polio.

Strains of this virus are cultivated in the kidneys of rhesus monkeys and used as the chief factor in the Salk polio vaccine. The virus is supposed to be killed in the manufacturing process.

Medal Of Honor Holders OKd For $100 Per Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Voicing praise for winners of the Medal of honor, the House whisked to passage Wednesday a bill to give each of them $100 a month for life. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The measure started off as a relief bill—opposed by the Eisenhower administration—when House Veterans Affairs committeemen heard that "several" of the 395 living holders of the nation's top military award had gone on public welfare rolls.

The medal winners now get $10 a month after age 65, provided they aren't receiving military retirement payments. Twenty-six of them are being paid the $10.

Construction Starts

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., (AP)—First actual construction at the Air Force Academy started this week as workmen with bulldozers ripped out trees and rocks in building an access road on the former Thomas Burgess' ranch. Harold Pepper, an official in the architectural section of the 126-million-dollar academy project, said close to 500 workmen will be on the job sometime in July.

The five dockmen and truckers employed by the Lincoln terminal of Petersen and Petersen, Inc., a trucking firm, have joined in the statewide strike of the AFL Teamsters against the firm in Nebraska.

Company spokesman said from 75 to 100 workers were striking over the state and that the strike shut down all business. Union members were picketing the firm's terminals in Lincoln, Omaha, Grand Island, North Platte and Scottsbluff.

Indications were that the strike would affect office employees as well as union members because of layoffs due to business slowdown.

The Petersen firm and a Hastings firm Highway Motor Freight Inc., against whom the union called a strike earlier in the year, are members of the Nebraska Small Carriers Association and are intra-state truckers. Nine members of the association declined to sign a new contract calling for higher wages, asking instead for wage relief.

The strike against Highway Motor Freight was settled by an order of the State Court of Industrial Relations calling drivers back to work.

The previous contract expired Feb. 1. The dispute over terms has been going on since that time.

In Lincoln union men declined comment, but elsewhere a spokesman said the union seeks both higher wages and better working conditions.

The spokesman said the strike followed an "overwhelming" vote turning down the small carriers' latest wage proposal.

Under the rejected plan, he said, take-home pay would have been $4 less a week in three years than it was when the previous contract expired.

James Tuma, owner of United Freight Lines in Grand Island, another member of the association, said the union seeks to raise the hourly wage from $1.47 to $2.24 over a three-year period.

Youths Sent To Kearney; Result Of Cadet Beating

OMAHA (AP) — District Judge James T. English Wednesday ordered two 15-year-olds committed to the State Training School for Boys at Kearney in connection with the beating of an ROTC cadet commander.

English said the sentencing of the youths was designed to "correct their pattern of living."

Another youth, also named in the complaint, was placed on "strict probation."

The boys were accused of beating and kicking Dean Warren, 18, on June 10. The attack reportedly stemmed from a South High School ROTC incident two months ago.

Friday Rites Set For John Martz, Ex-NREA Official

Lincoln Star Special

BEATRICE, Neb. — Funeral services for John E. Martz, 81, pioneer Nebraska Rural Electrification Association official, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at the Griffiths Funeral home in Beatrice with burial in the family lot at Seward at 2:30 p.m.

Mr. Martz died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Heath Griffiths in Beatrice.

A member of the Lincoln Scottish Rite and Shrine Clubs, he was also a member of the Beatrice Elks Club, the Seward Masonic Lodge, a former member of the Seward Rotary Club and a member of the First Christian Church of Beatrice.

Born at Phelps, Mo., Mr. Martz came to Nebraska at an early age and attended the University of Nebraska where he earned his engineering degree. He was a member of the first football team of the University of Nebraska.

He lived at Seward from 1903 until six years ago when he moved to Beatrice. During the course of his life he designed and built 25 municipal power plants in Nebraska, was superintendent of REA in World War II, and president of the Seward REA District until his retirement.

Mr. Martz was superintendent of construction for the first REA District to be built in the United States. At one time he was resident engineer for the Beatrice Water System.

Survivors include his daughter, Mrs. Griffiths; one son, Fay of Cameron, Mo., five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

House Group Decides To Push Reserve Bill

. . . Disputed Training Plan OKd

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Armed Services subcommittee Wednesday decided to try getting President Eisenhower's controversial miliyary reserve program through the House with a slightly modified bill.

The subcommittee approved, 11-1, a new measure continuing the disputed special six months' training program for teenagers volunteering for reserve service. The language was changed somewhat.

The measure eliminated all reference to the National Guard, in an obvious effort to forestall another anti-segregation amendment.

The President's program has been stalled for weeks because of a House-approved proviso prohibiting federal assignment of reservists to National Guard units practicing segregation.

Otherwise the measure closely parallels the now stalemated bill.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) said the House Armed Services Committee will approve the new bill Tuesday. It will be sent to the House for action next week.

The subcommittee agreed to these main provisions:

1. Youths under 18½ years would be permitted to volunteer for service in the reserves under "such regulations as prescribed by the Secretary of Defense." Testimony showed these would include a requirement to take six months' special training. The volunteer, who would be exempt from the draft, would be obligated to complete 7½ years' reserve service, in addition to the six months' training.

2. The total reserve obligation for all other servicemen would be lowered from the present eight years to six years. The maximum for active duty and training status reserve service would be five years, with the balance of the time in the standby or inactive reserves.

Increase

3. The bill authorizes the Pentagon to increase the active reserves to 2,900,000 men. This 1960 goal would be a fourfold increase over the present active reserve force and President Eisenhower has said it is necessary in view of the "long haul" cutback of active forces.

4. The President would be authorized to recall to active service up to one million reservists, without consulting Congress, in an emergency.

5. Reservists would be obliged to keep up with 48 weekly drills a year and 17 days' summer encampment, or the equivalent, or to go on 30 days' active service. Those failing to do so would be subject to recall for 45 days' active duty.

VA Facility Move Said Up To Washington

Ashley Westmoreland, regional manager of the Veterans Administration office in Lincoln, said moving of VA facilities to the Vets Hospital would depend on national rather than regional authority.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars has recommended that downtown facilities be moved to the hospital buildings.

A resolution passed at the state VFW convention at Grand Island said the hospital is operating at 25 per cent of capacity due to reduced funds.

The resolution stated that the VA office is paying 88 cents a square foot for the downtown building.

Westmoreland said the matter of consolidation is one for the Washington office.

He said he would go along with any move to consolidate the offices at the wishes of the national office.

Westmoreland pointed out a major consideration is that of service to veterans and whether they would best be served from downtown or at the hospital.

Some of the VA work is done for veterans living downtown such as those who attend school and some other work is done at the hospital itself, Westmoreland stated.

The downtown office is in an 11-story building at 12th & O for which the federal government has a lease through March 23, 1956, with an annual renewal option until 1958.

The Veterans Building Corp. here invested $535,000 in 1947 to purchase the Security Mutual Life Insurance Co. building so it could be leased to the federal government to house the VA office and other federal offices.

Maynard Mills Co. Buys Office Site

The Maynard V. Mills Company Wednesday purchased property located on the north side of O, between 48th and 49th to be used as the site of a new office building.

Purchase price for property, which was owned by Mitch M. Tavlinsky and Paul C. DeKlotz, was $29,000.

The property which the Mills Company now occupies at 1213 N was recently purchased by the Continental National Bank and a new bank building will be constructed there.

Construction for the new Mills building is to begin the 1st of July. Present plans call for a one-story, 80 by 50 foot, brick building.

The John M. Alexander Real Estate Co. handled the transaction.

Hopes High

NEW YORK (AP)—Four U.S. chess players left by air Wednesday for another go at the Russian world champions in Moscow.

Last year, the Russians came here and won easily. This year's going to be different, promised one of the 24-man American team, the balance of which leaves Thursday.

Court Decision Is Due Monday On Gas Tax Formula

A Lancaster District Court decision in the Nebraska gas tax controversy involving nearly $3 million will be handed down at 10 a.m. Monday by Judge Harry Spencer.

The decision will set forth the gas tax formula to be used for the controversial four year period between 1950 and 1954, it was indicated.

The decision will be in the declaratory judgment action brought by former State Treasurer Frank Heintze against the 93 counties, some of which are claiming to have been "underpaid" by the treasurer's allocations.

It is anicipated the decision will require an audit of funds distributed and those deposited with the court under the formula determined by the court.

Suit parties have been notified of the pending announcement of the court decision.

Ships Returning

BONN, Germany (AP) — Fourteen small naval craft being returned to the United States by Russia are expected to arrive in Kiel on July 1, the U.S. Embassy said. Under an agreement signed in Washington May 26 the Soviets are returning a total of six lend-lease subchasers and 56 PT boats during July and August.

Red Grilling Reduced His Mind To Putty—Fischer

NEW YORK (AP) — An American ace flier says Chinese Red grilling reduced him mentally to putty and that he falsely confessed to waging germ warfare.

Capt. Harold E. Fischer Jr., of Swea City, Ia., said he also made a phony admission that he had been ordered to fly across the Yalu River and over Manchuria.

"Never doubt for a moment that the Communists can put a man in that condition, given the time and right circumstances," Fischer said in Life magazine. "They have had years of experience with a multitude of human guinea pigs."

'Disagreeable Man'

The jet ace, who was credited with shooting down ten Russian-built MIGs, was recently released from prison along with three other American airmen by the Red Chinese.

Fischer told of being questioned by "a disagreeable Chinese officer named Chong."

"He wanted me to admit that I had dropped germs on the Chinese and that I had been ordered to cross the Manchurian border," Fischer wrote.

"I was grilled day and night, over and over, week in and week out, and in the end, to get Chong and his gang off my back, I confessed to both charges.

Ridiculous Charges

"The charges, of course, were ridiculous. I never participated in germ warfare and neither did anyone else. I was never ordered to cross the Yalu. We had strict Air Force orders not to cross the border.

"I will not try to explain away so grave a mistake. I will regret what I did in that cell the rest of my life. But let me say this: It was not really me—not Harold E. Fischer Jr., who signed that paper.

"It was a mentality reduced to putty. I believe now that I had been driven nearly out of my mind and that I had altogether lost contact with reality."

Trailer Court OKd Despite School District

A change in zoning at the northeast corner of 1st and Oak to permit establishment of a trailer court has been approved by the City Planning Commission over the objections of the West Lincoln School District.

Objection to the change was made by Harold Hawkins, member of the West Lincoln Board of Education. Hawkins told the Commission that the trailer court would over-tax the facilities of the West Lincoln school.

Three other zoning changes were denied by the Commission. They were:

Change from B, two family residential, to multiple dwelling one lot south of the southwest corner of 46th and Randolph.

Change from residential to business classification at 27th and Charleston.

Change from multiple dwelling to highway commercial on the north side of P 50 feet east of 23rd.

The Commission approved the application of the Belmont Community Center for an additional use permit to permit construction of a new center on the south side of Judson between Lewis Ave. and 12th.

Also approved was the plat of Park Valley Heights located north of Vine and east of 56th.

Equalization Hearings Near End In County

The Lancaster County Board of Equalization will conclude the 40-day equalization period on 1955 property assessments Friday.

The wind-up will largely be action on assessments for which appraisal re-checks were ordered in earlier hearings.

The Board announced its action on some remaining complaints. They were, giving the name of the property owner, the address of the property, the assessed valuation, and board action:

Johannes A. Johnson, 3429 E. Pershing, $10,575, reduced $800.
Harmon M. Turner, 4602 Adams on L 87 & 51, $3,785, no change.
Reimers-Kaufman, 1111 No. 16th, $40,760, reduced $1,500.
Deva A. Linch, 917-925 O, $25,560, reduced $3,400; Lot F, $12,855, no change.
Ethel Schaible, Lot 2, Block 74 University Place, $2,155, no change.

Lecture Replaces Charges Against Bingo Operators

OMAHA (AP) — Three operators of a church school bingo game were cleared Wednesday by Central Criminal Court Judge Robert Nelson of charges of conducting a scheme of chance.

Judge Nelson said, "I gave them the benefit of the doubt . . ."

In a 10 minute lecture he told them, "You gentlemen know you were specifically warned bingo would not be tolerated. . . Don't do it again. . . ."

The three are Dick Dasovic, 48, Matthew Rhye, 46, and Francis Forman, 32.

They were arrested June 11 in a police morals squad raid on a bingo game in the basement of Sts. Peter and Paul School. Raiders said 300 persons were present.

State Entry Wins In Jaycee Parade

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Nebraska's entry in Wednesday's parade at the national convention of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce won the second place trophy in the state entries class.

Michigan placed first and Connecticut third.

Barnyard Touch

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn. (AP) — The head of the nation's largest farm organization rolled up his sleeves here and proved in a milking contest he still hasn't lost the barnyard touch.

Charles Shuman, Chicago, head of the American Farm Bureau Federation, took top honors in the contest — and finished with a contented cow.

Flood Kills 7

ACCRA, Gold Coast, Africa, (AP) — Seven persons were reported dead in floods after the heaviest rainfall on the Gold Coast in the past 10 years.

Vivian Blaine, Husband Begin Trial Separation

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Musical comedy star Vivian Blaine and her husband, Manny Frank, startled Hollywood by revealing that they have begun a trial separation.

The actress said the pressure of her film work was a factor contributing to the split-up, but she insisted they have no plans to divorce.

Miss Blaine, who once credited Frank with guiding her career, is currently starring in the movie version of her stage hit "Guys and Dolls."

She and Frank are building a new home in Beverly Hills. Both expressed the hope that their domestic troubles will be settled in time for them to move into it by the middle of summer.

Miss Blaine and Frank are partners in various business projects, a relationship which, they said, will continue unchanged despite the separaton.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS

By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Hatch Act of 1930 just incubated an election egg of prosperous dimenzions. Congress figures to okay more pocket money for the saddlebags of national campaigns.

☆ ☆ ☆

Way back in 1925 the corrupt practices plaster limited candidatial shopping loot to three million dollars. That's all you could spend on singing lessons for the Voice of the People.

☆ ☆ ☆

Now, they want to jack the testimonial plunder up to 12 million, give or take a vote or two.

☆ ☆ ☆

Even the loser should show a profit on that.

☆ ☆ ☆

Nobody has been convicted of campaigning above his income in 30 years. Laws were not made to be broken. They were made to be stretched.

Detailed casualty lists of contributors will be filed with Congress. Memorandums of expenditures will be easily accessible to a librarian with an extra long ladder.

☆ ☆ ☆

Has the price of a vote boomeranged into the stratosphere? In the old days of the torchlight processions it was two dollars a head and no questions answered.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

L M D R  Y J W  O M D  O P K  D R W E R K  M L F R H Y  M T L J  R L R W T M L G ;  O R  B P F ,  P F  B R  F P G ,  T J  D J W R — S P W H G H R .

4 State Airports To Get Lighting Facilities, Beacons

Lighting facilities and beacons are being added to four Nebraska airports, State Aeronautics Director James D. Ramsey said Wednesday.

He said the new facilities at Auburn, Fairmont, Kimball, and Gordon will permit all-night operations, leaving the Sandhills region northwest of Broken Bow the only unprotected area.

Of the state's 67 municipal airports, 33 now are lighted. There are 50 navigation beacons, representing a 25 per cent increase during the past three years.

Night facilities have been added at Trenton, McCook, Holdrege Minden, Gothenburg, Cozad, and Ainsworth during the past 18 months.

Ramsey said offers of lighting facilities have been made to several communities in the unprotected Sandhills region but added that none have been willing to operate the beacons.

Services Held For Henry G. Bauer

Italy Plunged Into Crisis As Scelba Resigns

ROME (AP) — A Rightist minority in his own Christian Democrat party forced pro-Western Premier Mario Scelba to resign Wednesday and plunged Italy into a governmental crisis.

The resignation came just two months after Scelba made a triumphal tour of the United States in which he was received by President Eisenhower and hailed by thousands of Italian - Americans as a stout friend of the United States.

It was a bitter day for the little Sicilian who has become known as Italy's leading postwar foe of Communism.

Reshuffling Fails

After long and futile efforts to avert the crisis by reshuffling his Center bloc - coalition Cabinet, Scelba gave up trying to close rifts in his own Christian Democrat party ranks.

He was obliged to notify President Giovanni Gronchi, member of the Leftist branch of the Christian Democrats, that his Cabinet could not continue in office. Scelba had opposed Gronchi's election last April.

Following the usual routine of Italian government crises, Gronchi asked Scelba and his ministers to remain at their posts while a solution is sought.

Radial Road Work

Dugdale Construction Co., Omaha, was apparent low bidder for work to be done on the center section of the northwest radial highway in Omaha, the State Highway Department announced. The Dugdale bid for the curb and sidewalk work was $2,561.89.

Rails, Industrials Lead Stock Mart

NEW YORK (INS)—A belated uprush in Rail stocks maintained boom fever in Wall Street at a high pitch Wednesday.

Carrier issues advanced one to more than three points to a new 26-year high, while the fast-moving Industrials gained about as much to another record peak.

For the Industrials, it was the sixth consecutive day and the 11th time in the last 13 sessions that an all-time top has been set by the price index.

Wednesday's forward drive was sparked by a General Motors announcement that it will spend half a billion dollars for a new plant expansion program to meet the needs of an expanding market.

Coupled with widespread statistical evidence that the booming U.S. economy is showing few signs of faltering, investors and traders became eager bidders for stocks.

The long-laggardly Rails were principal beneficiaries of Wednesday's buying surge on the premise that in an all-out bull market this group could not forever languish in the doldrums.

Among notable gainers were Santa Fe up 3⅛ points; Union Pacific up 3; Illinois Central up 2⅞; Nickel Plate up 2½; Rock Island up 2⅜; Northern Pacific up 1⅝; Kansas City Southern up 1½; New York Central up 1⅜; and Southern Railway up 1⅜.

Chrysler featured the pivotals with a run-up of 2⅛ points on estimates that it would earn close to $8 a common share in the first half of 1955 as against $1.81 in the same period last year.

Other strong spots included General Motors up 1⅞; Du Pont up 1¾; Bethlehem Steel up 1¾; U. S. Steel up ⅞; U. S. Steel up 1¾; U.S. Steel up ⅞; Standard Oil of New Jersey up ¾; and Eastman Kodak up ¾.

There were some spectacular advances among the specialties. They included Coca Cola up 6¼ points on rumors of a stock split; Aluminum, Ltd. up 2½; Revere Copper and brass up 2; St. Joseph Lead up 2; Celotex up 2; Rayonier up 2; Eastern Airlines up 1⅞; Montgomery Ward up 1⅝; U.S. Rubber up 1⅝; Bullard up 1½; and Pullman up 1.

Aircraft shares were conspicuous laggards as traders shifted into other groups following the peaceful tone of Soviet Premier Bulganin's speech in Moscow Tuesday. Losses ranging to about a point were sustained by Boeing, North America, United Aircraft and Bell.

Volume expanded to 3,010,000 shares as against 2,720,000 Tuesday.

American Stock Exchange issues were higher in spots. Second-grade Rail liens attracted buyers on the bond market. Coffee and cocoa futures showed strength in commodities.

AP COMMODITY INDEX

NEW YORK — The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities Wednesday declined to 172.17. Previous day 172.64, week ago 171.86, month ago 170.73, year ago 171.44.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. government bonds closed slightly lower Wednesday. The corporate bond market was steady.

Treasury liens started higher but gains diminished as the session progressed until by the close, prices were unchanged to lower.

"Big Board" volume declined to $4,413,000 par value from $4,810,000 Tuesday.

Convertible obligations were the most active part of the corporate list, but they were irregular.

Investment quality liens fluctuated narrowly. There were few changes of a point or more.

Hog Market Down; Fat Cattle Erratic

OMAHA (AP)—Butcher hogs under 240 pounds slumped 50 cents on the Omaha market Wednesday while heavier kinds and sows dropped 50 to 75 cents. Extremes were $1 down.

The fat cattle market was erratic with better yearling steers and heifers stronger in spots and some plainer and heavier kinds ruling weak. Fat lambs opened $1 lower with some bids off more.

100-Million-Year-Old Skeleton Of Huge Sea Reptile Found Near Lincoln

The partial skeleton of a 35-foot-long water reptile, called a Plesiosaur, has been discovered by University of Nebraska scientists near Lincoln.

The unusual new find, was made in northeast Seward County, in an area in which the tropical sea bed which completely covered the state of Nebraska more than 100 million years ago has been uncovered.

Dr. C. Bertrand Schultz, director of the University of Nebraska State Museum, said that in addition to the skeleton, evidences of shark teeth, oyster shells and small fish, were found.

This find, the first of its kind to be uncovered in Nebraska, is approximately 100 million years old, Dr. Schultz said. Some scientists describe the Plesiosaur as "a snake strung through the body of a turtle."

The reptile had four well-developed paddles attached to the side of its broad and flat body which it used for swimming in a rowing-like motion. The head, usually small, was set on the end of a flexible neck and could dart sidewise to seize its prey, usually fish.

The sea bed was uncovered on the Carl Wagenknecht farm, located three miles north of Garland and 15 miles northwest of Lincoln, where the crew of the Greenhorn Lime Products, Inc., of Seward were bulldozing in quarries.

C. B. Boyes of Seward, owner of the firm, said the bulldozer had uncovered a slab of limestone and shale deposit containing small stones which they knew were foreign to such deposits.

Dr. Schultz, who was immediately called to the quarry, identified the stones as gizzard stones surrounded by the Plesiosaur's rib bones. Like birds and other reptiles, the Plesiosaur had a gizzard.

The evidences of the Plesiosaur have been removed to the State Museum's laboratories where they are being assembled for future public showing in Morrill Hall.

Dr. Schultz said that although a Plesiosaur has never been found in Nebraska before, it had been known that they lived in the area since similar evidences have been uncovered in both Kansas and South Dakota.

Evidences of the 100-million-year old Plesiosaur include gizzard stones surrounded by rib bones of the water reptile. Shown in the hand are shark teeth.

Most Grains Down On Board Of Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains were at a virtual standstill during most of Wednesday's session on the Board of Trade.

Moderate profit-taking entered wheat toward the close, against the trend at Kansas City and Minneapolis.

Soybeans were under pressure from the start but resisted well. Soyoil was off as much as 20 points and bean meal as much as 45 cents, though both markets have been firm recently until this week.

Lard also suffered reflective action. Hogs fell as much as 75 cents a hundred pounds as the country overloaded the markets with an expanded supply.

Wheat closed ⅞ lower to ⅜ higher, corn was unchanged ta ⅜ lower, oats unchanged to ⅛ off and rye unchanged to ½ lower.

Soybeans were ¼-1¾ cents less and lard 13 to 30 cents under previous closes.

State Safety Patrol Plans To Add 24 Men

An increase of 24 men for the State Safety Patrol force, allowed by a budget increase from the 1955 session of the Legislature, was announced by Safety Patrol Col. C. J. Sanders Wednesday.

Sanders issued a call for applications to fill the raise in force and seven existing vacancies on the Patrol.

The normal strength of the Patrol, now 137, will be raised to 161, according to the money appropriated by the Legislature. Sanders said that at the completion of training the new force would allow the operation of 155 Patrol units throughout the state.

Successful applicants for trooper jobs will begin a five-week training program Aug. 23, Sanders said, and the top 31 class members will be assigned on a six-month probationary period Oct. 1.

Sanders said the last complete class was trained two years ago.

The Colonel said applications must be made by July 16. Some will be called in for competitive examinations. From these tests, candidates will be chosen for the five weeks training camp at the Nebraska State Guard Camp at Ashland.

Rails, Industrials Lead Stock Mart

NEW YORK (INS)—A belated uprush in Rail stocks maintained boom fever in Wall Street at a high pitch Wednesday.

Carrier issues advanced one to more than three points to a new 26-year high, while the fast-moving Industrials gained about as much to another record peak.

For the Industrials, it was the sixth consecutive day and the 11th time in the last 13 sessions that an all-time top has been set by the price index.

Wednesday's forward drive was sparked by a General Motors announcement that it will spend half a billion dollars for a new plant expansion program to meet the needs of an expanding market.

Coupled with widespread statistical evidence that the booming U.S. economy is showing few signs of faltering, investors and traders became eager bidders for stocks.

The long-laggardly Rails were principal beneficiaries of Wednesday's buying surge on the premise that in an all-out bull market this group could not forever languish in the doldrums.

Among notable gainers were Santa Fe up 3⅛ points; Union Pacific up 3; Illinois Central up 2⅞; Nickel Plate up 2½; Rock Island up 2⅜; Northern Pacific up 1⅝; Kansas City Southern up 1½; New York Central up 1⅜; and Southern Railway up 1⅜.

Chrysler featured the pivotals with a run-up of 2⅛ points on estimates that it would earn close to $8 a common share in the first half of 1955 as against $1.81 in the same period last year.

Other strong spots included General Motors up 1⅞; Du Pont up 1¾; Bethlehem Steel up 1¾; U. S. Steel up ⅞; U. S. Steel up 1¾; U.S. Steel up ⅞; Standard Oil of New Jersey up ⅝; and Eastman Kodak up ⅝.

There were some spectacular advances among the specialties. They included Coca Cola up 6¼ points on rumors of a stock split; Aluminum, Ltd. up 2½; Revere Copper and brass up 2; St. Joseph Lead up 2; Celotex up 2; Rayonier up 2; Eastern Airlines up 1⅞; Montgomery Ward up 1⅝; U.S. Rubber up 1⅝; Bullard up 1½; and Pullman up 1.

Aircraft shares were conspicuous laggards as traders shifted into other groups following the peaceful tone of Soviet Premier Bulganin's speech in Moscow Tuesday. Losses ranging to about a point were sustained by Boeing, North America, United Aircraft and Bell.

Volume expanded to 3,010,000 shares as against 2,720,000 Tuesday.

American Stock Exchange issues were higher in spots. Second-grade Rail liens attracted buyers on the bond market. Coffee and cocoa futures showed strength in commodities.

AP COMMODITY INDEX

NEW YORK — The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities Wednesday declined to 172.17.

Previous day 172.64, week ago 171.86, month ago 170.73, year ago 171.44.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. government bonds closed slightly lower Wednesday. The corporate bond market was steady.

Treasury liens started higher but gains diminished as the session progressed until by the close, prices were unchanged to lower.

"Big Board" volume declined to $4,413,000 par value from $4,810,000 Tuesday.

Convertible obligations were the most active part of the corporate list, but they were irregular.

Investment quality liens fluctuated narrowly. There were few changes of a point or more.

Hog Market Down; Fat Cattle Erratic

OMAHA (AP)—Butcher hogs under 240 pounds slumped 50 cents on the Omaha market Wednesday while heavier kinds and sows dropped 50 to 75 cents. Extremes were $1 down.

The fat cattle market was erratic with better yearling steers and heifers stronger in spots and some plainer and heavier kinds ruling weak. Fat lambs opened $1 lower with some bids off more.

100-Million-Year-Old Skeleton Of Huge Sea Reptile Found Near Lincoln

The partial skeleton of a 35-foot-long water reptile, called a Plesiosaur, has been discovered by University of Nebraska scientists near Lincoln.

The unusual new find, was made in northeast Seward County, in an area in which the tropical sea bed which completely covered the state of Nebraska more than 100 million years ago has been uncovered.

Dr. C. Bertrand Schultz, director of the University of Nebraska State Museum, said that in addition to the skeleton, evidences of shark teeth, oyster shells and small fish, were found.

This find, the first of its kind to be uncovered in Nebraska, is approximately 100 million years old, Dr. Schultz said. Some scientists describe the Plesiosaur as "a snake strung through the body of a turtle."

The reptile had four well-developed paddles attached to the side of its broad and flat body which it used for swimming in a rowing-like motion. The head, usually small, was set on the end of a flexible neck and could dart sidewise to seize its prey, usually fish.

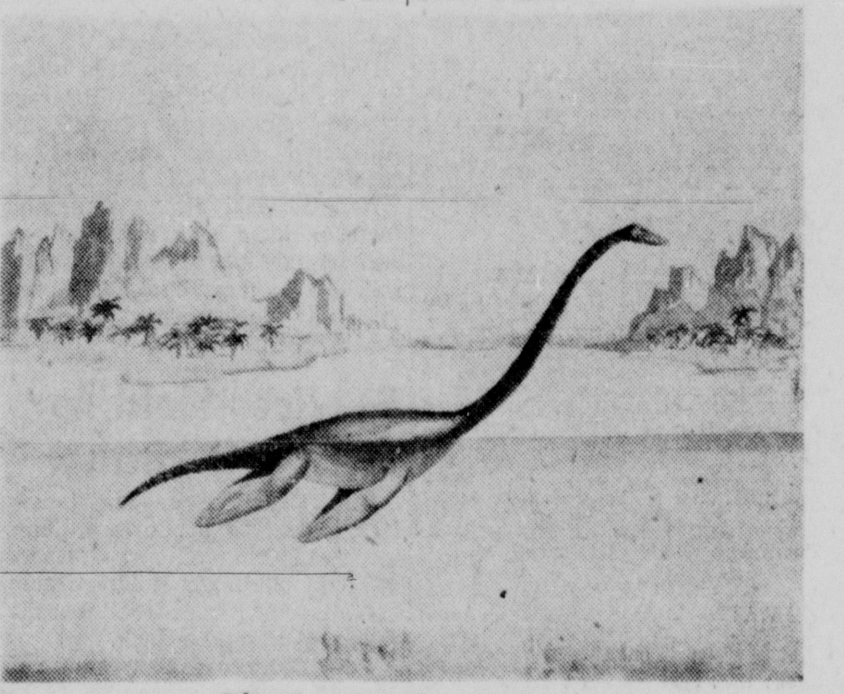
The sea bed was uncovered on the Carl Wagenknecht farm, located three miles north of Garland and 15 miles northwest of Lincoln, where the crew of the Greenhorn Lime Products, Inc., of Seward were bulldozing in quarries.

C. B. Boyes of Seward, owner of the firm, said the bulldozer had uncovered a slab of limestone and shale deposit containing small stones which they knew were foreign to such deposits.

Dr. Schultz, who was immediately called to the quarry, identified the stones as gizzard stones surrounded by the Plesiosaur's rib bones. Like birds and other reptiles, the Plesiosaur had a gizzard.

The evidences of the Plesiosaur have been removed to the State Museum's laboratories where they are being assembled for future public showing in Morrill Hall.

Dr. Schultz said that although a Plesiosaur has never been found in Nebraska before, it had been known that they lived in the area since similar evidences have been uncovered in both Kansas and South Dakota.



Plesiosaur—Sea Reptile

Evidences of the 100-million-year old Plesiosaur include gizzard stones surrounded by rib bones of the water reptile. Shown in the hand are shark teeth.

Most Grains Down On Board Of Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains were at a virtual standstill during most of Wednesday's session on the Board of Trade.

Moderate profit-taking entered wheat toward the close, against the trend at Kansas City and Minneapolis.

Soybeans were under pressure from the start but resisted well. Soyoil was off as much as 20 points and bean meal as much as 45 cents, though both markets have been firm recently until this week.

Lard also suffered reflective action. Hogs fell as much as 75 cents a hundred pounds as the country overloaded the markets with an expanded supply.

Wheat closed ⅞ lower to ⅜ higher, corn was unchanged ta ⅜ lower, oats unchanged to ⅛ off and rye unchanged to ½ lower.

Soybeans were ¼-1¾ cents less and lard 13 to 30 cents under previous closes.

State Safety Patrol Plans To Add 24 Men

An increase of 24 men for the State Safety Patrol force, allowed by a budget increase from the 1955 session of the Legislature, was announced by Safety Patrol Col. C. J. Sanders Wednesday.

Sanders issued a call for applications to fill the raise in force and seven existing vacancies on the Patrol.

The normal strength of the Patrol, now 137, will be raised to 161, according to the money appropriated by the Legislature. Sanders said that at the completion of training the new force would allow the operation of 155 Patrol units throughout the state.

Successful applicants for trooper jobs will begin a five-week training program Aug. 23, Sanders said, and the top 31 class members will be assigned on a six-month probationary period Oct. 1.

Sanders said the last complete class was trained two years ago.

The Colonel said applications must be made by July 16. Some will be called in for competitive examinations. From these tests, candidates will be chosen for the five weeks training camp at the Nebraska State Guard Camp at Ashland.

Peron Seems Likely To Keep Full Power

. . . Gen. Lucero Returning To Ministry Post

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A government spokesman predicted Wednesday night that Army Minister Franklin Lucero's special role as commander-in-chief of the repression forces and temporary chieftain of all the armed services would end soon.

Gen. Lucero

The spokesman said Gen. Lucero, who assumed the roles at the request of President Juan D. Peron to enforce order after last Thursday's costly naval-air revolt, would resume his normal functions in the Army ministry.

In a broadcast Wednesday night the Army minister heaped praise on the Army and on President Peron.

Gen. Lucero told his troops they were "honored to have been led in difficult circumstances by his excellency, the President of the nation, the commander-in-chief of all armed forces, Gen. Peron."

The broadcast topped another day in which Peron held a series of conferences obviously designed to show government business is moving normally again after the June 16 revolt of navy marines and fliers.

No Change Apparent

Although there have been many rumors of negotiations to form a three or five-man junta, in which the power of Peron would be considerably reduced, there has been no outward indication of a change in government.

Two moves went far toward restoring normalcy. Army guards were withdrawn from bombed Government House and other damaged areas around Plaza de Mayo for the first time since the rebel attack.

The government also announced political prisoners were being released.

Congress met for its usual Wednesday afternoon session and received a message from Peron asking an emergency appropriation of 150 million pesos (11 million dollars). Two-thirds of this would be for repairs of public buildings as a result of the revolt and the remainder for repair of private property.

Miller Urges 'Yes' Vote On Wheat Quotas

SCOTTSBLUFF (AP) — Rep. A. L. Miller of Kimball said Wednesday wheat growers should vote Saturday to retain marketing quotas next year, but he does not think the "bottom will drop from under wheat prices" if quotas are rejected.

Miller said Wednesday in a telegram to the Scottsbluff Star-Herald "I believe a 'yes' vote would be in the best interests of our entire agricultural economy. A 'no' vote might jeopardize our entire program of agricultural supports."

Miller and Sens. Roman Hruska of Omaha and Carl T. Curtis of Minden were asked for their comments or advice to farmers—based on their knowledge of the national situation, foreign trade prospects and other factors affecting the wheat situation.

Hruska pointed out that, while farmers may be dissatisfied with the present system, there is "wide disagreement as to the alternative to be followed" if marketing quotas are discarded. He said wheat growers should take that factor into consideration.

Curtis said, "I have no desire to be evasive on it but I feel it would be a genuine grass roots referendum and that I should not attempt to influence it one way or the other."

Miller added "several plans before congress would put a new wheat price support program into effect. One plan calls for 65 per cent of parity, increasing permitted acres. Another feature calls for a permium on higher grade wheat, such as the high gluten, high protein wheat produced in western Nebraska.

"We are producing more than we consume and the net result is surpluses. Surpluses during a war are a blessing; during peace time they can be a curse. If all people ate as we do in the U.S. we would have to produce more. If all people ate as the Asians, surpluses would be increased many times.

"Under the U.S. foreign policy we have built other countries up until they now export in competition with us. Our export policy must be revamped," said Miller.

Anderson Still Has 9 Bills To Consider

Gov. Victor Anderson will return Friday from the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee meeting in Grand Island to face a stack of nine bills requiring signature or disapproval or they will become law without his signature.

It is the last day for signing bills following adjournment of the Legislature. The bills upon which action has not been taken are LB 187, 188, 189, 190, 365, 466, 191 and the appropriation bill, LB 10.

Lincoln Family Of Four Injured In N.Y. State Wreck

Lincoln Star Special

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — Four members of a Lincoln family were injured seriously Wednesday when their car went out of control on the New York State Thruway near Syracuse.

Mrs. Vale Van Boskirk, 62, of 3414 Melrose, her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Best, and their 19-month-old son, Donald, were injured.

Onondaga General Hospital officials in Syracuse said Mrs. Van Boskirk, who was the driver of the automobile, possibly suffered a fracture of the skull, back and internal injuries.

Best suffered a broken left shoulder, internal injuries and shock. His wife, Janet, suffered lacerations of the face and legs. Donald possibly suffered concussion and shock.

The family left Lincoln Saturday for a vacation trip in the east, her daughter Mrs. Ed Brownson of Shenandoah, Ia., said. Mrs. Brownson is visiting relatives in Lincoln.

Dr. Philip Greenfield of Temple, Tex., reached the accident scene shortly after it occurred and gave first aid until an ambulance arrived.

Woman Slain

AACHEN, Germany (AP) — Police said the student son of a wealthy Iranian killed the pretty 27-year-old wife of a German nightclub owner and then tried to commit suicide here.

Police gave the student's name as Djelweh and said his father was a wealthy Teharan businessman and landowner.

They said Djelweh, 24, told them he was jealous of the woman, Brun Keupers. Both were found with slashed stomachs in her house and rushed to hospital. She died an hour after admission and he was said to be in serious condition.

Pilot Bails Out Of P-51 At Morrill

MORRILL (AP) — James Cook was forced to bail out of his P-51 single engine plane five miles north of here Wednesday night when the landing gear on the plane failed.

Cook circled the Scottsbluff Airport for more than an hour trying to lower the wheels. He got one wheel down but could not budge the other, and elected to bail out and let his plane crash in the badlands north of here.

Cook used the plane to seed clouds as part of the area hail suppression program.

IH Wage Talks Set

CHICAGO (INS) — CIO United Auto Workers officials said negotiations for a guaranteed wage will be opened in Chicago June 30 with International Harvester Co. Union officials said they would seek terms similar to those granted by Ford and General Motors. Some 41,000 workers in 18 Harvester plants in seven states are represented by the UAW.

Taylor Leaves Lisbon

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor left for New York by plane en route to Washington to take over his new post as Army chief of staff.

Arrest Said Readied For 3 Turncoats

HONOLULU (AP) — The Star-Bulletin said Wednesday the Army has ordered its area commanders to take into custody three former American soldiers the Communists say now have permission to leave Red China.

The three, dishonorably discharged when as prisoners of war they chose to remain in Red China after the Korean War, are Cpl. Lewis W. Griggs, Jacksonville, Tex.; Cpl. Otho G. Bell, Olympia, Wash., and Cpl. William Cowart, Dalton, Ga.

Cowart, the Reds said, wants to go to Japan; the others to the United States.

The Star-Bulletin quoted an unidentified Army source as saying the men may be picked up "whenever and wherever they come out of Red China."

Under Article III of the Uniform Code of Military Justice they can be tried for offenses committed while subject to military law, the source said.

There was no indication what charge if any would be filed against the men. But the Army source told the Star-Bulletin "The three of them will have much explaining to do before their future status is determined."

Clark Rites Set

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Funeral services for D. Worth Clark, former U.S. senator from Idaho, will be conducted Thursday in Los Angeles.

Clark died last Sunday in his Los Angeles home at the age of 53.

He was a Democratic congressman from Idaho from 1934 to 1938 and a senator from 1938 to 1944.
